Daylight Burglars Get $641

4 West-Side Homes Looted

Four Mansfield west-side apartments were looted of $641 worth of property during daylight hours yesterday as the wave of burglaries continued unchecked.

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said yesterday's lootings and others in the city recently were the work of professionals.

"There is nothing amateurish about these jobs," the chief said.

He asked apartment residents to report any stranger they see around the building and to conceal any valuables.

The four apartments were burglarized eight days after six apartments in the Chalfern and Washington buildings were looted of $966 in cash and jewelry.

Entrance to the apartments in each instance was gained by prying loose the wooden moulding strip and forcing back the lock.

Entered yesterday were the homes of Miss Hildred Cleland Apartment 7, and Rex Reese, Apartment 5, in the Niman apartments, 74 Park avenue west; the apartment of Miss Mabel Spray, Richland county home demonstration agent, at 187½ Marion avenue; and the home of Nile V. Jennings, 501 West Fourth street.

TRUNK RANSACKED

Jennings, first to report a burglary yesterday, told police someone entered his home between 11 a. m. and noon while he and his wife were away, ransacked a trunk and linen closet and stole his wedding ring, valued at $15 and an 1863 silver dollar.

At 3 p. m., Miss Cleland reported that $450 in jewelry and a silver dollar were stolen from her apartment. The theft included three rings. Miss Cleland said she left the apartment at 5:40 a. m. and returned shortly before 3 p. m.

While police investigated the Cleland apartment looting, they noticed that the lock on the Reese apartment had been tampered with and investigated. Mrs. Reese, who arrived at the apartment while police were there, said $155 in personal goods were taken between 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Theft from the Reese apartment included a woman's ring, a fountain pen and a motion picture camera.

Miss Spray reported shortly after 5:30 p. m. that her apartment had been entered on Marion avenue and that $20 in quarters, kept in a small glass jar, were gone. She said she left for work at 8 a. m. and returned at 4 p. m. to find the apartment ransacked.

Also reported to police yesterday was the theft of a folding type camera from the home of Mrs. Margie B. Lenhart, 292 Eighth avenue. Mrs. Lenhart said she believed the camera was taken during the past two weeks.

Government Nabs Docks

HONOLULU — (AP) — Seizure of Honolulu's two strikebound Stevedoring firms carried Hawaii's 102 - day waterfront tieup to the showdown stage today.

Gov. Ingram M. Stainback signed orders late yesterday for the territorial government's takeover of two of the islands' seven struck dock companies. The five others in the outer islands were not affected.

The striking CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union awaited the start of government Stevedoring operations to defy the territory.

ILWU leader Jack Hall said the union would start a court challenge to the territory's new dock seizure law within hours after the government puts its longshoremen to work. The government began signing up 1,500 Stevedores yesterday.

Hall also said the CIO Marine Engineers' Executive board in Washington ordered its members not to sail ships from behind ILWU picket lines. John Perry, Honolulu representative of the engineers, confirmed receipt of the order from Washington headquarters.

County Faces Loss of Red Cross Service

Blood Cost Rise Looms

Richland countians today faced the possibility that blood for transfusions will be boosted to $50 or $60 a pint. They now pay about $7 through the Red Cross blood donor service.

Columbus Red Cross officials said the Bloodmobile would quit visiting Richland county unless more blood donors are signed up. The county repeatedly has failed to meet its blood quota.

If the service is stopped, and blood must be taken from private banks, the cost will go up to $50 or $60, Red Cross officials said.

Under the present Red Cross program, a patient pays only for laboratory charges, which amount to about $7, and in some cases small doctor's fees for administering the blood. However, in a recent poll it was found that three-fourths of the physicians here were not charging for administering blood under the Red Cross program.

Columbus officials told Frank A. Berkey, Red Cross chapter chairman, they could not spend the time and effort to come to Mansfield unless something is done to increase the number of blood donors here. The next Bloodmobile visit will be Monday and Tuesday when the unit will be in Mansfield from noon to 6 p. m. Monday and from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesday.

"We're definitely up against an emergency situation," Berkey said. "Richland county is the largest chapter participating in the blood donor program out of Columbus and yet it has fallen down the worst in its free blood donor program."

Meet On Rate Expert

A special session of city council is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. today to act on legislation for hiring a rate expert to study the Mansfield Telephone company's application for an increase.

Hiring of an expert to study the application on the city's behalf has been discussed since shortly after the telephone company's application was filed with the Public Utilities Commission on June 6.

Scheduled for 8 p. m. today is a meeting of Richland County Farm Bureau Federation board to hear a report on that organization's fight against the increase in telephone rates.

The farm bureau hired Mansfield Attorney David R. Arbaugh to investigate procedure for filing a protest, and he will report to the group at today's meeting.

Pooch Gives Lie To Woman's Word

DAYTON — (AP) — Patrolman W. R. Folkerth will be more careful next time he gets orders to tell someone to restrain their dog.

Folkerth was sent to a house yesterday to tell a woman to keep her small pooch on her own property because the dog had bitten someone.

"My dog didn't bite anyone," the woman retorted.

Whereupon the pooch jumped out of the front door and bit Folkerth on the left ankle. He was treated at Miami Valley hospital and released.

Installment Charges Limited

Four Major Laws Go On Ohio Books

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Four major bills passed by the recent legislature, including the measure creating a new, unified Department of Natural Resources, become law within the next two days.

The natural resources bill, unifying all conservation activities in one department with seven divisions, becomes effective tomorrow. Governor Lausche still has to name the $10,000-a year director, who will serve a six-year term, and seven of the eight members of the natural resources commission.

A bill limiting charges by installment plan sellers becomes law today. Designed to prevent gouging on interest rates by unscrupulous finance companies, the new law requires that the seller give the buyer an itemized statement showing the cash price, the down payment, the unpaid balance, the cost of any insurance, the amount of the finance charges, the time for payment, and the amount of each payment.

It fixes a maximum base interest rate of eight per cent, plus a service charge of 50 cents a month on the first $50 unit and 25 cents on the next $50 units. No extra charge may be made for delinquent payments until they are at least ten days late.

Friday, laws which become effective will allow cities to go into the off-street parking business and will require a physicians' prescription for the purchase of barbiturates, or sleeping pills.

The new Natural Resources department will have divisions of lands and soil, water, wildlife, forestry, geological survey, parks, and beach erosion.

The present so-called "conservation division" will become the Wildlife division on the new department, with the present advisory commission becoming the "Wildlife Council."

Wildlife Chief Named

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Burly, 45 - year - old A. W. Marion now Ohio Director of Agriculture, was promoted by Governor Lausche today to be director of the new Department of Natural Resources which comes into official being tomorrow.

The appointment to the $10,000 year job is for six years.

Marion, World War II veteran, is a native of Circleville, and was appointed agriculture director — his first public job — from Mercer county where he has large farm holdings.

Lausche did not immediately appoint a successor to Marion as $8600 a year agriculture director.

However, the appointment was expected to go to Professor L. A. Kauffman, of the department of animal husbandry at Ohio State university, if the latter can secure a leave of absence from the school.

Ex-President Has 75th Anniversary

Nation's Press Lauds Herbert Hoover

(By Associated Press)

Herbert Hoover — 75 years old today — was hailed far and wide as an elder statesman and praised for his services to his nation and the world as American newspaper said "happy birthday" to the only living ex-President.

His return to public esteem after wide criticism born of the depression, and his recent service as head of the commission on organization of the executive branch of the government were noted especially in many editorials.

Sample editorial comments:

Chicago Tribune—"Mr. Hoover was the last occupant of the White House who both knew the tradition of the presidency and lived in accordance with it.

Baltimore Sun—"If Mr. Herbert Hoover had been the incompetent muddler which many believed when the great blow fell in the early thirties, he would have passed from the national scene forever. But Mr. Hoover, however mistaken in some of his policies, was still a man of wisdom, of resourcefulness and, especially, of deep patriotism.

New York Times—"Mr. Hoover has "the respect and the heartfelt good wishes of a nation.

Detroit News—"In politics (Herbert Hoover) was never a match for the ready weeper. He was never a politician in the sense that politics is the great game. As often happens, when the stunt men in public life have had their hour and time resolves a clouded picture, Hoover since has emerged in truer proportions.

Cleveland Plain Dealer—"Although he was cruelly and unjustly maligned at the close of his public career, Hoover today is one of America's most distinguished private citizens."

Relief Fails To Arrive

Mercury Hits 91 In City

Sizzling temperatures continued over most of the nation today and weathermen declined to predict any relief before the end of the week.

Mansfield's noon temperature was 86, two degrees higher than at that hour yesterday. The mercury soared to a 91-degree high at 2:30 p. m.

Forecasters said the mercury will hover between 90 and 95 over most of the state today. The same was predicted for Thursday with scattered afternoon showers seen as a possibility.

But you can't blame the sun for the heat any more, weathermen said. General Electric scientists have reported that the torrid heat wave which blankets the eastern two-thirds of the nation is due to pressure conditions which have prevented cool air masses from moving from the north.

AIR MASS WARMED

A cooler air mass in the northwest, heading toward the state, no longer is a cool air mass. Forecaster A. S. Klemetsmo at Cleveland said it "lost its identity" over the sunbaked midwest area because of a conflicting mass from the Gulf of Mexico.

Toledo and Cleveland topped reporting points yesterday with highs of 96, a mark which tied the all-time high in Cleveland. Possibly some comfort lies in the fact that New York City had 99 degrees yesterday, while the mercury zoomed to 103 at the Blue Hill weather observatory in Boston, highest ever decorded there in 63 years.

In Argentina a traffic policeman froze to death. In Atlanta, Ga., a girl jumped into an ice truck, clad only in slacks.

While New Yorkers sweatingly boasted it was the hottest summer since 1871, the citizens of Big Piney, Wyo., huddled under their blankets: Temperature, 34 degrees.

Unification Bill Signed

Truman Acts On Military Measure

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman today signed into law the new military unification bill which is designed to save a billion dollars a year in defense spending.

With the enactment of the new law, Defense Secretary Johnson immediately appointed a board headed by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney to conduct a survey and outline a program for reducing defense expenditures.

Johnson told the Senate appropriations committee on June 16 that if the present law was enacted he believed he could reduce spending by a billion dollars by the end of the 1950 fiscal year.

The new law creates four new top positions in the defense department. Promotions are expected to cause a general reshuffling of high level officers and officials.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, is slated to become chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Big economies are anticipated from consolidating facilities, eliminating duplication and reducing the number of civilian employes.

The military establishment now has an annual payroll of three and one-half billion dollars for 1,613,000 men in uniform.

Wife Charged With Murder

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — A murder charge has been lodged against Mrs. Mary Corprew, who told police her husband died by knocking a drinking glass from her hand and then falling on its broken edges.

Police were told Morris Corprew, 38 stumbled against his wife, caused her to drop the glass and fell on it. He died at Beth Israel hospital Monday of a severed artery.

Police Lt William Wagner said yesterday Mrs. Corprew had revised her statement, saying this time that she had smashed a glass against her husband's chest during a quarrel over his late hours.

Driver Loses Control, Runs Into Abutment

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. —(UP)— A Greyhound bus hit a concrete bridge abutment and exploded into a roaring sheet of flames today, trapping and killing 15 passengers. The driver said he lost control "when the steering gear went bad" or "a tire blew out."

Fourteen persons survived, many of them saved by bus driver Wayne Cranmer, 25, Indianapolis, who braved the fire and was burned himself dragging out the screaming injured.

Six hours after the Indianapolis-to-Evansville coach ripped into the abutment, and landed on its side in flames, 15 bodies had been removed. They were placed in a convoy of eight ambulances and brought to the Bloomington armory where a temporary morgue was set up by Mayor Tom Lemon.

Steven Campbell, an undertaker who helped remove the bodies said the 15th body was the last. Rescuers abandoned the charred and smoking wreckage, from which 13 of the bodies were removed with the help of acetylene torches.

The huge bus, blackened and twisted by the heat of flames fed by 100 gallons of gasoline in the coach's tanks, blocked part of State Highway 37, a winding, hilly 50-mile highway connecting Indianapolis with this Indiana university city.

It looked like a flame-thrower had destroyed the bus. Melted metal from the white-hot wreckage poured into the highway. Firemen pumped water from a small creek beneath the bridge, but it was hours after daybreak before work crews could enter the debris and remove bodies.

Two hand fire extinguishers, charred by the flames, remained on the dashboard of the bus. Neither had been used. The flames shot up so fast there was no time.

Cranmer believed a tire blew out, swerving the bus into the abutment, but State Police Trooper R. A. Dunlap said it would never be known just what happened. He said the tires were burned completely off the wheels.

Bus company officials said 37 passengers were on the bus when it left Indianapolis around midnight. Cranmer said some got off at Martinsville, Ind., and other points along the line.

One of the injured, Bill Elderbook, 24, Evansville, said his parents were riding on the bus with him. They were not among the known survivors and auth-

Record Crowd Predicted For Bargain Days

"Record crowds and real bargains" were predicted for the city's 24th annual Greater Mansfield Days today by the trade promotion committee of the Retail Merchants association.

The two-day sales event, which opens tomorrow, will be observed by 75 stores in the city. Today's 32-page N-J edition carries a list of the bargains of late summer and early fall merchandise to be offered at special prices.

There will be no evening shopping hours during the sale Stores will observe the regular 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. working days.

All stores participating will display Red and White pennants on their windows. Much of the merchandise to be put on sale appeared in store windows today.

3 Quakes In One Hour Jolt Island

NAGOYA, Japan — (INS) — Three earthquake tremors within an hour jolted the central part of the Japanese island of Honshu today.

The center of the quakes was 20 miles north of Kyoto, one of the principal cities of Honshu, the largest and most populous island of the Japanese chain. No serious damage was reported.

GI Quizzed In Slaying

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Battling back an angry crowd of about 150 persons, police early today took a 24-year-old air force member into custody for questioning in the killing of his widowed mother.

William Bucarich, 24, home on leave from the air force, was covered with blood and in tears when police arrested him on the stairway leading to his second-floor apartment home.

Neighbors a short time before had found his mother, Mrs. Mary Bucarich, 49, dying of a revolver bullet wound near her heart.

Police Lt. Jack Dudek said Bucarich claimed his revolver went off accidentally while he was showing it to his mother. The neighbors told Dudek they heard the young man quarreling with the widow just before the shot was fired.

Charges against Bucarich were delayed pending further questioning.

Irate onlookers tried to grab Bucarich as he sat in a police squad car near the scene. A window in the police car was broken and one patrolman was scratched pushing back the crowd. One of the leaders of the crowd was arrested, but no charges were filed against him immediately.

Roscoe Won't Lose His Leg

ASHLAND — Roscoe isn't going to lose a leg after all.

Stanley Phillips' little pet monkey which set the town on its ear during two escapes from his cage at Phillips' home, 234 Lee ave., is recovering so rapidly that the attending veterinarian has decided not to amputate the fractured left leg.

Roscoe came afoul of a truck during his second escape Friday and wound up with a fractured leg and gashed skull.

While the Phillips home is overrun with curious visitors and telephoned inquiries, Roscoe sits soberly in his cage with his splinted leg and clamped head as evidence of the folly of flight.

Cherry Time May Be Observed With New Pie, the Wagon Wheel

A brand new and pleasingly different - looking cherry pie has been announced in connection with the beginning of "Cherry Pie Time", August 15th, to mark the 1949 cherry crop.

The new creation is called Cherry Wagon Wheel, and features a tempting new recipe in addition to a striking new top crust design.

Cherry Wagon Wheel is easy to make, and looks so good you'll want to keep it on the table right through dinner to pep up those lazy, late summer appetites. And, according to the folks who developed the pie, the National Red Cherry Institute, it's as easy to make as it is delicious.

Here's how to make it:

1 No. 2 can pie cherries or 2 16 ounce packs frozen pie cherries, thawed
*Sugar
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons corn starch
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

*For water pack canned cherries, use 2-3 cup sugar. For frozen or canned cherries packed in syrup, use ¼ to 1-3 cup sugar.

Drain cherries, saving 1 cup juice. Combine sugar, flour, cornstarch, cinnamon and grated lemon rind. Add one cup cherry juice gradually, stir until blended. Cook at boil slowly until thickened — stir constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice, almond extract and butter or margarine. Cool, then combine with drained cherries and turn into pastry lined pie plate.

Use favorite pie crust recipe or prepared pie crust mix for a 2 crust, 9" pie. Using pie plate as guide, cut circle of dough ½" larger than plate. Cut circle into 6 equal wedges. Place wedges on top of cherry filling — leave slight space between wedges. Seal and flute outer edge of pie. Cut strip of dough about ¼" thick and 4" long. Roll pin-wheel fashion — place in center of pie. Bake 40 min. at 400o F.

Dress Correctly For Your Hobby

No matter what your hobby, you have to dress correctly for it, in order to get the maximum return from the energy you invest.

You may swing a golf club like a pro, but you're not likely to get a hole - in - one if your follow-thorough is hampered by a dress that has tight sleeves, or a too-slim skirt. CHARM'S golf dress for champions has a concealed, open back and side buttoning sleeves to give you freedom while you swing. The removable shoulder pads and belt tabs, and a full length zipper make laundering a cinch.

If your skating has won trophies and bravos, chances are that your graceful and practical costumes helped you on your way. For amateurs or experts, CHARM suggests a skating suit of corduroy, flecked with white for the look of tweed. It has a flaring, knee-length skirt, and a beautifully turned collar and silvery buttons.

Youngsters usually like a salad if it has raisins in it. Here's a raisin-carrot--banana combination they'll really go for.

Pour boiling water over a cup of seedless raisins and let them stand about five minutes, then drain them well and chill them. When you're ready to serve put the chilled raisins in a bowl with a cup of grated carrot and a cup of diced banana, and enough mayonnaise to moisten; mix lightly so as not to crush banana. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves to six hungry young people.

Bobby Feller Bops Browns for 4th Straight

Cleveland Picks Up Game On Yankees

CLEVELAND —(AP)— If Bob Feller keeps it up, he's going to be a big help to the Cleveland Indians' pennant pursuit in the 50 games the Tribe has left.

Rapid Robert bowled over the last-place St. Louis Browns last night 9-2 for his fourth straight victory and now has won 10 and lost eight. In his last 26 2-3 innings of pitching, he's yielded only three runs.

The highly paid fireballer started slowly last year, too, then came in with considerable August and September help in the Indians' pennant drive.

That help is needed again, with the tribe trailing the league-leading New York Yankees by four and a half games and the Boston Red Sox coming up fast.

The seven games remaining in Cleveland's current home stand all are against second-division teams. If the tribe can't gain on the Yanks and Red Sox within the coming week, their chances of reaching the top later will look poor indeed.

Manager Lou Boudreau assigned Bob Lemon, his No. 1 pitcher, to hurl against the Browns tonight. Lemon will be seeking his 14th victory against seven defeats, and Cliff Fannin (4-8) will be serving them up for St. Louis.

A crowd of 31,219 turned out last night to welcome the world champions home from a disappointing eastern trip and to honor Manager Boudreau on the occasion of his completing 10 years with the tribe.

Better for Lou's spirits than the anniversary cake the boys ate in the dressing room after the game was the victory, Feller's performance and the game gained on the New York Yankees who lost in Boston 6-3.

TWO BIG HITS

Aside from Feller's pitching —and hitting—the triumph over the Brownies was simply a matter of bunching hits into two big innings — the fourth and fifth. Feller gave only one walk, fanned four and was in control all the way. The only Brownie to give him trouble was Catcher Les Moss who made three of the visitors' nine hits—a single, a double and a homer. No other Brownie got more than one single.

"He was just guessing what I would throw and didn't miss," Bob said.

Ned Garver, a righthander, held the tribe to one hit for three innings. Then a wild throw by shortstop Eddie Pellagrini with the bases loaded gave the tribe a run and the rout was on. Pellagrini's toss to the plate should have had Mickey Vernon by 10 feet for the first out, but it hit the dirt and skidded away from Moss.

Bob Kennedy then rapped out a two-run single, and singles by Jim Hegan and Dale Mitchell drove in a run each, bringing southpaw Bill Kennedy in to replace Garver.

Feller's two-run single with the bases full was the key blow in the tribe's three-run fifth inning rally. Bob also doubled in the eighth and scored on Larry Doby's single.

Johnny Berardino was in at second base for Joe Gordon and came through with a ground-rule double in the fifth inning. Boudreau said: "Joe needed a good rest, so I thought this would be the time. He will be back in there Friday—or before that if we need him."

EASTER WORKS

Luke Easter, the big first baseman of the San Diego Padres, Indian farm club, took his first workout here before last night's game. Luke came here six weeks ago for an operation on a chipped knee cap. When he left the Pacific coast league, he was leading the loop with a .363 batting average and 25 homers.

Last night he clouted a number of long balls, including one that hit the 463-foot marker on the first hop.

Tribe Prexy Bill Veeck refused to say whether or not the Indians would keep Easter in a Cleveland uniform or return him to San Diego.

Penn Auto 4 Holds Lead In N-J Loop At Possum

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods held onto first place in the News-Journal A golf league last night, but had its lead slimmed down considerably.

Penn scored only 15 points to run its total to 140 while second-place Ideal Billiards tallied 22½ for a 136 total. Pete Thoma fired a two-under par 34 to lead Ideal while Pete Zimmerman racked up the same tally for Komito's Clothes. Komito's, despite Joe Frisch's failure to score a point, now has 135 for a close third.

Tied for medalist honors with Thoma and Zimmerman were Jim Musile and Al Hager who were also two under par. Joe Mayer had a 35 and Ted Muntan, Ted Etzel and Gene Lichtle 36's Musille won a new ball for an eagle on the third hole. Two new balls were also awarded for the players in each position scoring the most points over the last three weeks. Winners were Al Hager, Arnie Adams, Ennis Walker and Chuck Schlegel.

Behind Komito's in the standings are: Myers Supply, 120; PD's Bar, 119; Hall's Shamrock Market, 116; Lee's Lunch, 112½; Blue Goose, 115½; Gibson Studebaker, 108; and Drive-in-ette, 97.

18 Nominated For Trot Race

GOSHEN, N. Y. — (AP) — The 24th Hambletonian stake, the world's most famous harness racing classic, comes up for decision today at picturesque Good Time park.

With 18 three-year-olds, cream of the trotting business, entered, the old times were predicting a wide-open affair.

Many of the top drivers on the grand circuit, from 76-year-old Ben White to 29-year-old Del Cameron, are slated to be in the sulkies shooting for top money in the $69,791 purse.

An expected crowd of 20,000 or more probably will establish bangaway the 3 to 1 favorite, despite his racing luck draw for post position which gave him the No. 18 spot in the Bulky field.

Hot Stove Ball Game Postponed

The game between Ideal Billiards and South Wood of the Hot Stove's American league scheduled for the Ontario diamond Thursday evening has been postponed.

Instead the Ontario Merchants will play the Crestline Merchants Thursday at 5:45 p. m. at Ontario. In an earlier game Crestline defeated Ontario, 9 to 4. Walter Snadel will pitch for Ontario.

Boston Red Sox Stop Yankees, 6 To 3; Dom DiMaggio's Hit Streak Is Halted

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Boston Red Sox ever catch up with the New York Yankees in their season-long American league pennant chase, most of the credit must be given to their much-maligned pitching staff.

In the last five weeks, during which time the Red Sox have picked up six and a half games on the front-running Yankees, Boston hurlers have pitched 25 complete games in 34 starts. As a result, they've won 25 of them to whittle their deficit to five and a half games. On July 4 the Red Sox trailed the leaders by 12 games.

Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox's righthanded ace, is the latest to go the route. He finished what he started last night, beating the Yankees, 6-3, for his 13th victory against five losses.

Mel Parnell, Boston's southpaw ace, who leads all the pitchers with 16 victories, also owns the most complete games, 19.

Kinder permitted the Yankees 10 hits, including a pair of home runs by Outfielder Hank Bauer, but an early 5-0 lead furnished by Birdie Tebbetts and Ted Williams carried him through. Tebbetts parked one of Vic Raschi's offerings for a two-run homer in the second, and Williams duplicated the catcher's feat in the third.

A capacity crowd of 35,691 was disappointed by the inability of Dom DiMaggio to prolong his consecutive hitting streak. The Red Sox centerfielder, who had hit in 34 consecutive games, was held hitless in five trips to the plate.

Williams' homer, his 28th of the season, was the 250th of his career.

The triumph, Boston's 12th in 15 starts in this current home stand, left the third place Bosox still a game behind the runnerup Cleveland Indians. The Tribe whipped the St. Louis Browns, 9-2, to reduce the Yankees' lead to four and a half games.

Bob Feller gained his fourth straight and 10th victory of the season as the Indians ended a three-game losing streak. The star righthander aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single in the fifth and a double in the eighth.

The fourth place Philadelphia Athletics and fifth place Detroit Tigers won their games, to move forward also. The A's, aided by 15 bases on balls, defeated Washington, 8-3, and the Tigers walloped the Chicago White Sox, 11-5.

Brooklyn and St. Louis continued in their first place National league deadlock. The Dodgers whipped the Philadelphia Phils, 8-1, and the Cardinals won from Cincinnati, 4-1. The New York Giants protected their hold on third place by edging out the Boston Braves, 4-3. In the only daylight contest, the Pittsburgh Pirates slugged the Chicago Cubs, 8-3.

Southpaw Harry Brecheen permitted only seven hits and did not issue a pass to post his ninth victory for the Cardinals. He helped his cause with a single and triple.

New Moundsman Starts At Top With No-Hitter

Clayton Psimer made his first pitching start a memorable one last night at Liberty park.

The lanky first sacker was pressed into action for the Police Recreation club in a Hot Stove National league contest and proceeded to pitch a no-hit, no-run victory over the Marines, 4 to 0. The Police pitchers had been used up in hurling the club to the state championship last week end in Wooster.

Psimer allowed only four men to reach base, and only two balls were hit out of the infield. He fanned nine and walked two. Psimer also led the Police hit parade with a brace of singles.

Leading Grid Coaches Get 'Crying' Season Under Way

By CARL BELL

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (AP) — Two gentlemen you'd think have the least reasons to squawk have opened the football coaches wailing season.

They're Frank Leahy and Matty Bell, no less.

As head strategist of Notre Dame football, Leahy hasn't tasted defeat in three seasons. Bell, who sends Doak Walker and ten other guys onto the field for Southern Methodist university, has seen his team fall only once in two years.

But things are going to be different this fall. The Fighting Irish and the Mustangs are going to lose some games.

Or, at least, so said Messrs. Leahy and Bell as they paused amid their present duties as instructors at the Hot Springs coaching clinic.

"We're going to lose some games this year," said Leahy without putting his tongue in his cheek.

"Why? Well, for one thing, we lost seven regulars from our 1948 team — Fischer, Brennan, Tripucka and so forth. You think we can fill their shoes? Well, we can't. Just because we're Notre Dame we're supposed to be five and six deep at every position. But I'm telling you we aren't this year.

"And another thing—look at our schedule. It's the toughest we have had in years. Our two new opponents, North Carolina and SMU, for instance. Boy, they're tough.

PRESSURE TOUGHER

"Then, of course, everyone points for Notre Dame. The more we win the tougher that pressure gets—and we've been winning for three years."

Bell, who has borne the nickname "Moanin' Matty" for years, laid down his case:

"I'm not a moaner anymore. You can't moan when you have a good team. And we'll be a good team this year; we'll give everybody plenty of trouble.

"But we're likely to lose three or four games."

Sardine Lures Sleepy Skunk From Fruit Cellar Into Trap

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The sleepy skunk in Joe Szenesh's fruit cellar was removed Monday. There were no casualties.

The skunk was lured into a box trap baited with sardines and taken to a nearby woods where he probably will have to work harder for his food.

The skunk wandered into Szenesh's suburban Lyndhurst home Friday night and Joe promptly shut the fruit cellar door, trapping the longtailed critter, thereby creating the problem of how to remove him without an odiferous kickback.

After numerous tries failed to dislodge the visitor Mrs. Szenesh suggested a box trap as the solution to the problem.

So the game warden was called in and with Szenesh's help, the two rigged up the box with the sardine lure. The skunk obligingly walked in and the deed was done.

Guards Heiser and Keiser shine on the line.

Practice will be held at 6:15 p.m. daily at Tappan field with a scrimmage at 2 p.m. Saturday.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you orities assumed that Charles Elderbook, 78, and his wife, 66, were dead.

Bus Crash Kills 15

BODIES BADLY BURNED

Many of the bodies were so badly burned they were shapeless. Some were just charred torsos.

They were laid side by side beneath sheets at the roadside until the torch wielders signalled ambulance drivers that the last body was out. Then the ambulances lined up, the bodies were loaded aboard and driven slowly over the hilly curves to the morgue.

Authorities were alerted by farmer Everett Miles who lives near the little valley where the crash occurred.

"We heard a crash," Miles' wife said. "We looked and the bus was on fire from front to back and the flames were as high as you could see. People were screaming. I called for the ambulances. It was a horrible thing and I hope I never see anything like it again."

Fire equipment, ambulances and police cars raced to the scene from surrounding towns. By the time they arrived, however, the bus was red hot and rescue of its trapped occupants was impossible.

Survivors said Cranmer personally saved many of the passengers. They said he entered the flaming wreck repeatedly to drag out any passengers he could reach.

Mrs. Lucille Melton, 39, Mt. Vernon, Ind., screamed to him that she had left her infant daughter, Judith Ann, in the bus.

Cranmer climbed back through the smashed and burning wreckage, found the child, and tossed her into the arms of her mother. The girl suffered a broken nose when she bumped a window frame as Cranmer threw her out.

Other survivors said the body of a "huge man" blocked the regular front entrance and that Cranmer literally "ripped the clothes off him" in his frenzy to get the corpse clear of the exit.

Boy Finds Dog Playmate Too Rough

Andrew Franta, Concord avenue, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday that his son, David, 12, was bitten by a dog on Bulkley avenue.

Deputies found the dog was tied in a yard and the Franta boy went into the yard to play with the dog.

Deputies ordered the dog tied for 10 days. The boy was treated by a physician.

Two Stolen Bikes Found

An 11-year-old Shelby avenue boy was ordered into juvenile court today because Carl Bartoseski, 569 Lida street, found his missing bicycle in the boy's possession yesterday afternoon.

Police recovered the stolen bicycle of Wayne Hooper, 371 Buffalo street near a market on Bowman street at 4 a. m. today. The Hooper boy reported the bike stolen between 4 and 10:40 p. m. yesterday from a confectionery on North Foster street.

City Gets One Bid On Old Springs Site

A parcel of land, opposite the Empire Steel plant on Bowman street, from whose springs Mansfield got its first water supply was up for sale by the city at noon yesterday.

Only one bid of $358, by R. D. Lumpkins, 819 Bowman street, was received. The city did not immediately accept it. The property, the site of Laird and Longview springs, was first recorded at the courthouse as belonging to the city in 1878. The first city water - works was located there.

Recently the .9 of an acre lot has been used by residents of the area as a garden plot. Mayor Row W. Vaughn said yesterday the springs have been dried up for many years.

Safety - Service Director Earl T. Garrison said he did not know yet whether or not the property would be sold on the single bid.

Lumpkins reported he was not planning to build on the lots in the near future but would eventually if the sale is completed. Lumpkins has several other lots in the area.

Fires Break Out At Same Time

Grass fires broke out within one minute of each other in opposite ends of the city yesterday.

At 3:35 p. m. firemen from No. 4 station were called to Wayne and Spring streets for a grass fire. One minute later, firemen from No. 5 station went almost next door to Cline and Marion avenues where a grass fire had started.

No damages was reported at either grass fire.

Blood Price Boost Feared

Not only would a return to the private blood bank be more expensive but it would be inconvenient. Often a patient must wait hours before being able to get the type of blood needed. When a life hangs in the balance, that can mean tragedy, Berkey added.

Under the present Red Cross program, if a certain type of blood is not available at the blood bank at the hospital, it is rushed here from the general blood bank in Columbus within a matter of not more than two hours at the most.

"One of the reasons why Richland county has fallen down on its quota," Berkey said, "is that patients receiving the often life-giving transfusions are indifferent to the benefits and will not make an effort to obtain another donor for the blood bank."

Since the Red Cross blood donor program started here in January, 1,100 pints of blood have been used and only 800 pints donated. In order to maintain a balance at least 200 pints of blood must be donated at each visit of the Bloodmobile. The over-all average for each visit is only 65 pints, and much of that is from Shelby which usually makes a good showing, Berkey said.

Last night the blood recruitment committee, headed by Richard Wolford, met to set up a program to recruit more donors.

Nine divisions were set up in the recruitment program at the meeting. They include clubs and organizations; professional groups; churches, subdivided into Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish; village and townships; public employes and utilities; industries; retail; wholesalers; and commercial.

Richard Sowash was named chairman of clubs and organizations; Joe Roby, professional groups; Paul Snyder, Catholic church; G. D. Weidemaier and Robert Hartmann public employes and utilities; Robert Beard and George Condos, industries; and Lowell Bourns, Samuel Campbell, and W. J. Toole, retail.

There will be a meeting of the chairman of all divisions and their assistants at 7 p. m. Aug. 23.

The medical advisory committee of the blood program, headed by Dr. W. E. Wygant, has sent a letter to all physicians on the hospital staff asking them to assist in the recruiting program.

Class Rooms Renovated for Opening of Schools Sept. 7

Newman Building To Be Ready

Senior High Gets New Steps

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Bright and clean school rooms will welcome back Mansfield youngsters Sept. 7.

Glen L. Robinson, business manager of the Mansfield Board of Education, said the annual renovation has been kept "rather conservative" at schools, such as West Fifth, Brinkerhoff, Carpenter and Bushnell where new schools will soon replace the old structures. However, Robinson added, that walls have been washed and rooms put in good condition.

Newman school pupils will move into a new and completely modern school house on Central avenue extension. This is the only new school expected to be ready for the opening of the fall session. Robinson said much of the movable furniture in the old Newman building is being refinished in preparation for moving.

Furniture in the West Fifth building also is being refinished in preparation for moving into the new building. Robinson said the new building, under construction on the school site, is progressing more slowly than other schools because of the complicated construction of many of the special classrooms. It is hoped the building will be ready for the spring session of school.

Right now, the auditorium at John Simpson junior high school is getting a new coat of paint. The cafeteria at Simpson was recently painted. So were the auditorium and cafeteria at Johnny Appleseed junior high. During the winter, all classrooms at Appleseed were painted as well as the inside windows at Senior high school.

Good grooming on the schools is affecting the exteriors as well as interiors of the buildings.

At Senior high school, the cracked and crooked steps to the front of the building, have been replaced. Robinson said that a coating of plastic rock also has been applied to the walks and that "black-top" asphalt will be used on the sidewalk in front of the school.

Roseland school yard has been seeded and planted with small shrubs and trees. The same operation has been carried out at Rebecca Grubaugh school where the front walk was relaid.

Grading is still going on at the Newman school site and Robinson said seeding and planting will be done when the grading is finished.

Nine Members of Tyger Squad Plan To Enter College In Fall

Nine of the 13 members of the Tyger football squad who were graduated in the June class at Senior high school, are going away to college, Augie Morningstar, Senior high coach said yesterday. And he added that there may be one or two more by the time college opens this fall.

The nine include: Harry Osbun, Ohio University bound, who was class president during last year; Bernard Weaver, who also goes to Ohio University; Joe Miller and Norbert Shibinski, who will add to their learning at the University of Cincinnati; Joe Letizia and Tony Taddeo, who have signed up for Atlantic Christian at Wilson, N C; Robert Burkhart, who has chosen Case; Paul Ferguson with an eye on Kent State and Louis Gregorio, who will go to Denison.

Most of the boys were above-average in their studies all of them had to have a high standard of scholarship in order to stay on the team, Morningstar said.

"Three D's and an F wouldn't do," he said, citing one boy who was told, much to his astonishment, to get that F off his grade card if he wanted to stay on the team.

"We had a competitive bout among sophomore, junior and senior team members last year in order to stimulate interest and enthusiasm for study. The juniors won over the seniors by a very slight margin."

All nine boys played football and basketball and some baseball during their junior high and four years of senior high as well, Morningstar said.

"It was a fine class," he asserted. "And it was fun getting them to up their grades. They really worked."

Vet Relief Unit Gets $15,000

$14,000 Will Be Spent For Food

Harry S Vandervort, service commission, said today that $14,000 of $15,000, turned over to the commission, would go for food for veterans and their families.

The county commissioners made the transfer from the public utilities excise tax fund to the general fund for use of the commission.

The transfer was required because of increased relief costs. At the beginning of the year the commission received $22,000 for direct relief.

All of the $14,000 will go only for food orders, Vandervort said. The balance of $1,000 will go for operating expenses, $800, and burial expenses, $200.

As of June 30, the commission was taking care of 158 veterans' families, which includes, in all, 477 persons. Vandervort said the commission was carrying about 20 per cent of the county's relief load, which is about the percentage of the veteran population in the county.

Vanervort said many of the veterans had fallen behind in their rent payments because the $20 per week in unemployment compensation had not been enough to support a family.

However, because of a shortage of funds, the new appropriation can only go for food orders, he said.

Ousted Mayor Files As An Independent

POMEROY, (INS) — Former Mayor Delmar A. Canaday will seek the nomination again against Pomeroy Mayor Sidney Spencer, the Republican who succeeded him when he was removed from office.

The ex-West Virginia prize fighter filed petitions as an independent candidate. He previously ran as a Democrat. Canaday was suspended by Governor Herbert last Nov. 22, and subsequently resigned.

Would-Be Lady Bullfighter Reaches U. S., Nurses Wounds

NEW YORK —(AP)— New York's would-be lady bullfighter returned from Spain Tuesday, still enthusiastic in spite of rude contact in the bull ring.

Instead of a pair of ears—bullfighting's victory symbol — young Mrs. Edith Laurie-Entin brought home a couple of sore spots where a young bull scored a point for Spain.

"But that's all right," she said. "You've got to learn sometime. I was so busy watching my footwork I forgot to look at the bull."

He was only a small practice bull with two to three inch horns, but he caught the 21-year-old American in the left side and sent her sprawling.

She took her lessons on the bull farm of Matador Isidro Marin, who admired her spirit but said she had a lot to learn before she goes after a bull with a sword.

Before she takes any more lessons, though, she plans to do some propaganda work for bullfighting in the United States.

"Of course you'll never persuade people to let the bulls be killed — although it's no worse than fox hunting," she said.

"But I want to see if we can start the Portuguese style of fighting in Florida this winter."

Under the Portuguese rules, the matador baits the bull but doesn't kill it. To be fair all around, the bull has padded horns.

Mrs. Laurie-Entin — her husband is a chemicals distributer—fell in love with bull fighting on a trip to Lima, Peru, before her marriage. She studied some more on her honeymoon in Spain, and spent another five weeks at it on this trip.

Someday, when she gets her footwork straightened out, Mrs. Laurie-Entin wants to climb into a Mexican bull ring and play for keeps.

"It will take a long time," she said.

orities assumed that Charles Elderbook, 78, and his wife, 66, were dead.

BODIES BADLY BURNED

Many of the bodies were so badly burned they were shapeless Some were just charred torsos.

They were laid side by side beneath sheets at the roadside until the torch wielders signalled ambulance drivers that the last body was out. Then the ambulances lined up, the bodies were loaded aboard and driven slowly over the hilly curves to the morgue.

Authorities were alerted by farmer Everett Miles who lives near the little valley where the crash occurred.

"We heard a crash," Miles' wife said. "We looked and the bus was on fire from front to back and the flames were as high as you could see. People were screaming. I called for the ambulances. It was a horrible thing and I hope I never see anything like it again."

Fire equipment, ambulances and police cars raced to the scene from surrounding towns. By the time they arrived, however, the bus was red hot and rescue of its trapped occupants was impossible.

Survivors said Cranmer personally saved many of the passengers. They said he entered the flaming wreck repeatedly to drag out any passengers he could reach

Mrs. Lucille Melton, 39, Mt. Vernon, Ind , screamed to him that she had left her infant daughter, Judith Ann, in the bus.

Cranmer climbed back through the smashed and burning wreckage, found the child, and tossed her into the arms of her mother. The girl suffered a broken nose when she bumped a window frame as Cranmer threw her out.

Other survivors said the body of a "huge man" blocked the regular front entrance and that Cranmer literally "ripped the clothes off him" in his frenzy to get the corpse clear of the exit.

Boy Finds Dog Playmate Too Rough

Andrew Franta, Concord avenue, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday that his son, David, 12, was bitten by a dog on Bulkley avenue.

Deputies found the dog was tied in a yard and the Franta boy went into the yard to play with the dog.

Deputies ordered the dog tied for 10 days The boy was treated by a physician

Two Stolen Bikes Found

An 11-year-old Shelby avenue boy was ordered into juvenile court today because Carl Bartoseski, 569 Lida street, found his missing bicycle in the boy's possession yesterday afternoon.

Bartoseski reported his bike stolen Monday night from Bowman and Harker streets.

Police recovered the stolen bicycle of Wayne Hooper, 371 Buffalo street near a market on Bowman street at 4 a. m. today. The Hooper boy reported the bike stolen between 4 and 10:40 p. m. yesterday from a confectionery on North Foster street.

City Gets One Bid On Old Springs Site

A parcel of land, opposite the Empire Steel plant on Bowman street, from whose springs Mansfield got its first water supply was up for sale by the city at noon yesterday.

Only one bid of $358, by R. D. Lumpkins, 819 Bowman street, was received. The city did not immediately accept it. The property, the site of Laird and Longview springs, was first recorded at the courthouse as belonging to the city in 1878. The first city water - works was located there.

Recently the .9 of an acre lot has been used by residents of the area as a garden plot. Mayor Row W. Vaughn said yesterday the springs have been dried up for many years.

Safety - Service Director Earl T. Garrison said he did not know yet whether or not the property would be sold on the single bid.

Lumpkins reported he was not planning to build on the lots in the near future but would eventually if the sale is completed. Lumpkins has several other lots in the area.

Fires Break Out At Same Time

Grass fires broke out within one minute of each other in opposite ends of the city yesterday.

At 3:35 p. m. firemen from No. 4 station were called to Wayne and Spring streets for a grass fire. One minute later, firemen from No. 5 station went almost next door to Cline and Marion avenues where a grass fire had started.

No damages was reported at either grass fire.

Blood Price Boost Feared

Not only would a return to the private blood bank be more expensive but it would be inconvenient. Often a patient must wait hours before being able to get the type of blood needed. When a life hangs in the balance, that can mean tragedy, Berkey added.

Under the present Red Cross program, if a certain type of blood is not available at the blood bank at the hospital, it is rushed here from the general blood bank in Columbus within a matter of not more than two hours at the most.

"One of the reasons why Richland county has fallen down on its quota," Berkey said, "is that patients receiving the often life-giving transfusions are indifferent to the benefits and will not make an effort to obtain another donor for the blood bank."

Since the Red Cross blood donor program started here in January, 1,100 pints of blood have been used and only 800 pints donated. In order to maintain a balance at least 200 pints of blood must be donated at each visit of the Bloodmobile. The over-all average for each visit is only 65 pints, and much of that is from Shelby which usually makes a good showing, Berkey said.

Last night the blood recruitment committee, headed by Richard Wolford, met to set up a program to recruit more donors.

Nine divisions were set up in the recruitment program at the meeting. They include clubs and organizations; professional groups; churches, subdivided into Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish; village and townships; public employes and utilities; industries; retail; wholesalers; and commercial.

Richard Sowash was named chairman of clubs and organizations; Joe Roby, professional groups; Paul Snyder, Catholic church; G. D. Weidemaier and Robert Hartmann public employes and utilities: Robert Beard and George Condos, industries; and Lowell Bourns, Samuel Campbell, and W. J. Toole, retail.

There will be a meeting of the chairman of all divisions and their assistants at 7 p. m. Aug. 23.

The medical advisory committee of the blood program, headed by Dr. W. E. Wygant, has sent a letter to all physicians on the hospital staff asking them to assist in the recruiting program.

Class Rooms Renovated for Opening of Schools Sept. 7

Newman Building To Be Ready

Senior High Gets New Steps

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Bright and clean school rooms will welcome back Mansfield youngsters Sept. 7.

Glen L. Robinson, business manager of the Mansfield Board of Education, said the annual renovation has been kept "rather conservative" at schools, such as West Fifth, Brinkerhoff, Carpenter and Bushnell where new schools will soon replace the old structures. However, Robinson added, that walls have been washed and rooms put in good condition.

Newman school pupils will move into a new and completely modern school house on Central avenue extension. This is the only new school expected to be ready for the opening of the fall session. Robinson said much of the movable furniture in the old Newman building is being refinished in preparation for moving.

Furniture in the West Fifth building also is being refinished in preparation for moving into the new building. Robinson said the new building, under construction on the school site, is progressing more slowly than other schools because of the complicated construction of many of the special classrooms. It is hoped the building will be ready for the spring session of school.

Right now, the auditiorium at John Simpson junior high school is getting a new coat of paint. The cafeteria at Simpson was recently painted. So were the auditorium and cafeteria at Johnny Appleseed junior high. During the winter, all classrooms at Appleseed were painted as well as the inside windows at Senior high school.

Good grooming on the schools is affecting the exteriors as well as interiors of the buildings.

At Senior high school, the cracked and crooked steps to the front of the building, have been replaced. Robinson said that a coating of plastic rock also has been applied to the walks and that "black-top" asphalt will be used on the sidewalk in front of the school.

Roseland school yard has been seeded and planted with small shrubs and trees. The same operation has been carried out at Rebecca Grubaugh school where the front walk was relaid.

Grading is still going on at the Newman school site and Robinson said seeding and planting will be done when the grading is finished.

Nine Members of Tyger Squad Plan To Enter College In Fall

Nine of the 13 members of the Tyger football squad who were graduated in the June class at Senior high school, are going away to college, Augie Morningstar, Senior high coach said yesterday. And he added that there may be one or two more by the time college opens this fall.

The nine include: Harry Osbun, Ohio University bound, who was class president during last year; Bernard Weaver, who also goes to Ohio University; Joe Miller and Norbert Shibinski, who will add to their learning at the University of Cincinnati; Joe Letizia and Tony Taddeo, who have signed up for Atlantic Christian at Wilson, N. C; Robert Burkhart, who has chosen Case; Paul Ferguson with an eye on Kent State and Louis Gregorio, who will go to Denison.

Most of the boys were above-average in their studies all of them had to have a high standard of scholarship in order to stay on the team, Morningstar said.

"Three D's and an F wouldn't do," he said, citing one boy who was told, much to his astonishment, to get that F off his grade card if he wanted to stay on the team.

"We had a competitive bout among sophomore, junior and senior team members last year in order to stimulate interest and enthusiasm for study. The juniors won over the seniors by a very slight margin."

All nine boys played football and basketball and some baseball during their junior high and four years of senior high as well, Morningstar said.

"It was a fine class," he asserted. "And it was fun getting them to up their grades. They really worked."

Vet Relief Unit Gets $15,000

$14,000 Will Be Spent For Food

Harry S. Vandervort, service commission, said today that $14,000 of $15,000, turned over to the commission, would go for food for veterans and their families.

The county commissioners made the transfer from the public utilities excise tax fund to the general fund for use of the commission.

The transfer was required because of increased relief costs. At the beginning of the year the commission received $22,000 for direct relief.

All of the $14,000 will go only for food orders, Vandervort said. The balance of $1,000 will go for operating expenses, $800, and burial expenses, $200.

As of June 30, the commission was taking care of 158 veterans' families, which includes, in all, 477 persons. Vandervort said the commission was carrying about 20 per cent of the county's relief load, which is about the percentage of the veteran population in the county.

Vanervort said many of the veterans had fallen behind in their rent payments because the $20 per week in unemployment compensation had not been enough to support a family.

However, because of a shortage of funds, the new appropriation can only go for food orders, he said.

Ousted Mayor Files As An Independent

POMEROY (INS) — Former Mayor Delmar A. Canaday will seek the nomination again against Pomeroy Mayor Sidney Spencer, the Republican who succeeded him when he was removed from office.

The ex - West Virginia prize fighter filed petitions as an independent candidate. He previously ran as a Democrat. Canaday was suspended by Governor Herbert last Nov. 22, and subsequently resigned.

ONE-MAN ARMY—Back in his home at Howard Beach, N. Y., Pvt. Edward Touhey who created something of an international incident in Vienna last May, gives his mother, Mrs. Edward Touhey, a look at the big muscles with which he banged around a half-dozen Red officers. A six-month sentence given him was suspended. He expects an honorable discharge soon.

Would-Be Lady Bullfighter Reaches U. S., Nurses Wounds

NEW YORK —(AP)— New York's would - be lady bullfighter returned from Spain Tuesday, still enthusiastic in spite of rude contact in the bull ring.

Instead of a pair of ears—bullfighting's victory symbol — young Mrs. Edith Laurie-Entin brought home a couple of sore spots where a young bull scored a point for Spain.

"But that's all right," she said. "You've got to learn sometime. I was so busy watching my footwork I forgot to look at the bull."

He was only a small practice bull with two to three inch horns, but he caught the 21-year-old American in the left side and sent her sprawling.

She took her lessons on the bull farm of Matador Isidro Marin, who admired her spirit but said she had a lot to learn before she goes after a bull with a sword.

Before she takes any more lessons, though, she plans to do some propaganda work for bullfighting in the United States.

"Of course you'll never persuade people to let the bulls be killed — although it's no worse than fox hunting," she said.

"But I want to see if we can start the Portuguese style of fighting in Florida this winter."

Under the Portuguese rules, the matador baits the bull but doesn't kill it. To be fair all around, the bull has padded horns.

Mrs. Laurie-Entin — her husband is a chemicals distributer—fell in love with bull fighting on a trip to Lima, Peru, before her marriage. She studied some more on her honeymoon in Spain, and spent another five weeks at it on this trip.

Someday, when she gets her footwork straightened out, Mrs. Laurie-Entin wants to climb into a Mexican bull ring and play for keeps.

"It will take a long time," she said.

Admiral Byrd is in the midst of plans for another trip to the Antarctic—and, at the moment, it sounds attractive.

There is no understanding why pleasant days are filled with indoor chores which simply have to be done, and when a rainy day comes along the roof still needs patching.

As a time-saving device, employes in the U. S. budget bureau are reported to have adopted "millibuck" as a short form for a million dollars, and billibuck" as applied to a billion—according to which Uncle Sam is only a little more than a quarter "trillibuck" in the red.

CIO Leaders Oppose Ballot Change

OPPOSITION of the Ohio CIO to proposed adoption of the Massachusetts (or office-type) ballot in this state is quite frankly based on announced intention of that organization's leadership to defeat Senator Robert A. Taft, who will be up for re-election next year.

Admittedly, the proposed change in ballot form would require greater intelligence on the part of a voter than mere ability to distinguish between pictures of a rooster and an eagle at the head of party tickets. Candidates for each office would be listed, with party designation, and an X mark required to indicate the voter's preference.

This would result in greater selectivity and should lessen the chance of incompetent "coattail riders" getting into office because of strength of the head of a ticket.

According to the Associated Press, the CIO executive board "contended the new type ballot would decrease the help a strong candidate for governor could give a candidate for U. S. senator," which, in effect, says that dependence would be placed on Governor Lausche, as probable candidate for re-election, to pull through any Democrat who may be put up for senator.

This makes it appear that the CIO is afraid to fight it out with Senator Taft on the merits of his record, and, as viewed by the Akron Beacon-Journal: "If the CIO is against the proposed ballot change because it will help Taft, that seems to us to be an unconscious endorsement both for the plan and for Taft."

Still Without Detention Home

WHATEVER is done quickly in providing detention quarters for juveniles must be regarded as a temporary measure, as construction of a suitable detention home would require more time than is available in meeting the present emergency.

It is recalled that a former commissioner at one time suggested purchase of an available building near the court house, which he thought could be converted to detention home use, and that required supervision might be provided by employes of the sheriff's office, but it appears that this possibility was not fully explored.

Now it is a matter of hurrying through some plan to avoid jailing juvenile offenders, and, according to County Auditor Wolfe, funds can be made available for payment of rent and supervisory expenses.

With the public interest being shown in this subject it seems unlikely that the board of county commissioners will continue the delaying policy that has brought about the present situation.

Belated Recognition of Greatness

GREETINGS to Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States, on today's observance of the 75th anniversary of his birth—the first time in almost a century that a man who has served as president has reached the age of 75.

It is outside of the presidency that Herbert Hoover has most convincingly demonstrated his greatness, and his most recent work as head of the Hoover Commission on re-organization of the executive branch of federal government may hereafter be regarded as the crowning achievement of his long and valuable public service.

It is regrettable, of course, that an unfortunate combination of circumstances unjustly made Mr. Hoover the "whipping boy" in the severe depression which was being moved toward just twenty years ago, but instead of being embittered by that experience, he has shown himself at all times ready to serve his country in any way he could—and as a result has grown in stature and public regard.

The suggestion is offered that friends of Mr. Hoover, as well as others who are appreciative of his fine contribution to his country's advancement, let this be known to him in a message or letter, which will reach him if addressed in care of Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Houses That Lack Permanency

ONE of a group of British architects and builders, who were lavish in their praise of American design, construction methods and workmanship in a tour of several American cities, dropped a remark about a number of small, one-story houses in a new development. He said he thought such houses would not be popular in England because "they seem to lack permanency".

This is an interesting observation. Much has been said about the differences between a "house" and a "home". One of those differences is the air of permanency which surrounds a home. Perhaps, as the visitor implies, a background of permanency can be put into the design of a house. But somehow that air of permanency depends on the people who live in the house, just as do the other things which change a house into a home.

Claude Callan has noticed: "If a man has a lot of authority he may not use it often but if he has a little authority he is using it all the time."

Aren't Those Eggs About Done?

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

ONE of the most revolutionary projects of President Truman's welfare state program is his so-called national compulsory health insurance. It is not insurance and it will not improve health. Taxes in the sum of $6 billion a year are to be levied, for the most part on payrolls, and to be paid out by a Washington bureau to give free medical care to everyone in the United States, including the millions who are completely able to pay for it themselves. Doctors, nurses, dentists and other health personnel would soon become, in effect, employes of the federal government. The cost to the taxpayer (and everyone would be a taxpayer through the payroll deductions) would probably be far more than $6 billion. Experience in England and elsewhere shows that, when medical services are free, everyone insists on treatment for the most trivial causes. Doctors are so swamped that those in real need get very poor service indeed.

A recent Brookings Institution survey shows that we have the best health record of any country in the world, except for a few small countries which do not have our wide variation in conditions and types of people. Our free system of private medicine has produced the best doctors in the world, and there are more of them per unit of population than in any other country.

Certainly our system can be improved, but why destroy it when it has succeeded better than any other? Freedom has been the key to the success of the American Republic.

This is no time to abandon it for state-directed systems in any field. Nothing could intrude the federal bureaucracy into the daily lives of every American family more than this national medical socialism.

* * *

THERE are many other things government can do to improve our system. Government and the medical profession have done a great job in the field of preventive medicine. Many of our worst scourges like typhoid have been driven out. We are appropriating millions to check cancer, tuberculosis, heart disease and venereal diseases.

The Senate has passed a bill to help states to provide periodical inspection of the health of children in public, parochial and private schools. The Senate committee has approved a bill to aid states to extend their local public health units to cover the entire state.

We found after the war that our facilities had fallen behind. The federal government is aiding the states and private hospitals so that adequate hospital facilities may be available to all.

The Senate committee has recommended an increase in this aid to hospital construction, and also a bill to aid medical and other schools so that they may educate more doctors, dentists, nurses and other health personnel.

* * *

WE are studying plans also to aid the states and localities in providing free medical care for those unable to pay for it. The obligation of local government to do this has been recognized everywhere, but there have been gaps in the performance, particularly in rural districts, and a better job should be done.

If government confines free service to those unable to pay their way, we do no more than Anglo-Saxon people have always done for hundreds of years.

We are also studying the encouragement of voluntary health insurance funds so that real health insurance can be obtained at pre-paid cost by all those who desire to protect themselves against calamity illness and excessive charges.

There are those who are opposed to the federal government giving any aid to states, cities and counties. Admittedly, health is primarily a local responsibility, but many states are poor and none has the tax resources of the national government.

I know of no other way to fill up the gaps in our system or quickly to effect substantial improvement. All federal aid legislation which I have sponsored or approved leaves complete control of administration in the states. Local self-government is absolutely essential to the maintenance of freedom in a country as large as the United States.

Salesmen in and around Princeton have Professor Albert Einstein tabbed as one of the easiest marks in history. One of them actually sold him an elevator. Frankly Speaking

Delay Security Changes

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — For a long time there have been rumblings about bringing more people under the protection of social security and increasing the payments to old people.

President Truman has asked Congress to do it. A step was taken in that direction when the House ways and means committee approved legislation to do that.

But this is only a bill which the committee will send up to the full House for a vote. The House may approve it before quitting, in a month or so, for the rest of 1949.

That's not enough to make even one change in the present law, unless the Senate also approves. It's doubtful that the Senate will do anything about it before quitting this year.

The best guess is that the present law will remain unchanged for this year at least. If the House approves the bill this year, maybe the Senate will next year.

Under the present law about 35,000,000 people are covered. The bill would bring another 11,000,000, leaving 14,000,000 or so people still unprotected, many of them farmers.

There's no room here to go into details of the law or the bill that would change. But one part of the law and the bill can be examined. That's old-age insurance.

That insurance is the payment, or pension, which workers receive from the government when they retire at 65, if they've been covered by the law.

(The present law doesn't cover any kinds of workers, like those employed by non-profit organizations, farmers and so on.)

To pay for this old age insurance the government now collect a tax of one per cent from each "covered" employe and one per cent from his employer up to $3,000 of the worker's wages or salary.

(In other words, no matter how a person made over $3,000, he'd be taxed only on the first $3,000 of it.)

The committee bill would raise the tax—how much hasn't been decided by the committee—and it would raise the taxable income from the present $3,000 to $3,600.

* * *

Would Raise Benefits.

ALTHOUGH the present law went into effect Jan. 1, 1937—the date on which the government started collecting taxes—no one began receiving the old age insurance until 1940.

The highest pension, or old age insurance, that can be paid an over-65 worker now is $44.80. He won't get that much unless he had been receiving at least $3,000 a year since Jan. 1, 1937.

His wife, when she reaches 65, gets half as much pension as he does. So the wife of a man receiving $44.80 would get $22.40. Together, their total pension would be $67.20.

The committee bill would boost the pensions. A man now getting $44.80 would be jumped to $74.20 and his wife would get a jump in her pension to $37.10 from $22.40.

The lowest pension anyone can receive now is $10 a month. The bill would make the lowest anyone could get $25.

The bill would be retroactive. For example,

It would boost the pensions already being received by people who began getting it anytime between 1940 and the time the bill became law. How much of a boost they'd get would depend upon how much pension they've been getting.

Under the present law, suppose a "covered" worker became permanently disabled. He wouldn't get any pension until he reached 65.

Under the bill a worker—say 30 years old—who became permanently disabled now would get a pension, a pension as much as he would receive if he had worked to 65.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Mrs. Pearson Wins Vacation Argument

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Maybe I shouldn't admit it, but I've been having increasing trouble with my wife lately. Usually she is the easiest person in the world to get along with—but not in August.

Every summer she labors under the delusion that Washington is not cool in August and that I can write a column just as well from some other part of the U. S. A.

She even jolts my self-esteem by insinuating that the world would get along just as well if no column was written at all—for a while.

In vain do I argue that someone has to keep an eye on the lobbyists and the legislators. It does no good. The five-percenters could run off with the U. S. treasury and Mrs. P. just wouldn't worry about it if the thermometer was above 80.

In vain, also, do I scan the weather reports and gloat over the fact that it's been 97 in New York, 96 in Philadelphia, 99 in Nebraska and only 95 in Washington. Washington, I argue, is a much cooler place. But it makes no difference.

"We don't have to go to New York, Philadelphia or Nebraska," Mrs. P. replies. "There are other places in the U. S. A. besides New York, Philadelphia or Nebraska. Also, there's Canada."

Obviously I can't win. I should have known this from previous summers. But there is nothing more unwise than a stubborn husband, so I resorted to delaying tactics. I got out the railroad and airplane timetables and left them in a conspicuous place in the living room.

It did no good. Mrs. P. wanted a date, the exact date, the hour, the name of the hotel, the time of the train's departure. I even told her that Bob Allen was busy and wasn't ready yet to take over the column. She didn't swallow that one either.

"If you don't need a vacation the General Vaughan does," was her comeback. "I'm almost beginning to feel sorry for him."

So this is to announce that having reached the end of my domestic rope, this will be the last column to be foisted on a hot and helpless public until September. The best reporter in Washington, Bob Allen, has been kind enough to take over until then.

* * *

Keeping Score On Truman.

BEFORE I close the season's score, however, there are a couple of points I would like to set straight. If anything should happen to me I would not want the wrong impression to prevail about certain people.

For instance, I have been pretty rough on some of the White House hangers-on who influence President Truman. But while I deplore the choice of these White House cronies, I continue to applaud most of Truman's legislative program.

The President is sincere, honest, diligent, sometimes vindictive, frequently impulsive, and not always efficient. But history will show that 90 per cent of the time he has been fighting for the little fellow—and that's a lot more than can be said for some presidents.

The great tragedy is that he harms his own program and the common folks he is trying to help by his stubborn loyalty to certain cronies.

* * *

Byrnes and Truman.

SOME time ago I wrote a column about the differences between President Truman and ex-Secretary of State Byrnes in which I reported that Mr. Truman had become irked at Mr. Byrnes just a week or so before he resigned, and that Byrnes' resignation, which he himself had planned for some time, had been hastened by that irritation.

Mr. Byrnes has now written me that the latter part of this column was incorrect and that Mr. Truman was not irked. I regret this error, and am glad to make the correction.

I should like further to repeat what I have written before, that in my opinion Jimmie Byrnes resigned just when he was striking his real stride as a great secretary of state.

I have always felt that the country would have been much better off if he had continued in office; for General Marshall, fine and sincere as he was, had to unlearn the military habits of a lifetime—which was not easy. Thus for a year or more the nation marked time when it should have been marching forward on the road to peace.

* * *

Will Clark Be Liberal?

SOME Republican senators, plus certain newspapers, have been panning Tom Clark, the attorney general. They claim he is a politician, a hack lawyer and no addition to the Supreme Court.

I think they're wrong. Tom Clark has his faults, and some eccentricities. He looks like a politician, he talks like a politician, but when the chips are down he's a tough, go-through fighter, with a pretty consistent record of battling for the little guy.

When Tom first became attorney general, critics said he wouldn't have the nerve to go after the big monopolies. Thurman Arnold's trust-busting, they said, would come to a dead halt. But Tom fooled 'em.

He has brought twice as many anti-trust cases as any other attorney general—including the case to break up the Du Pont empire, one of the toughest ever to come out of the justice department.

When Tom Clark was a student at the University of Texas he roomed with a Jewish boy. And because his roommate wasn't invited to join a fraternity, Tom also refused to join a fraternity, and did not do so until after his roommate had finished college and could not be embarrassed.

And when Tom Clark helped organize the federal bar association he shocked some of his colleagues by demanding the Negro attorneys be admitted to membership.

Tom has been under a fire of criticism from his old friends in Texas for championing civil liberties. But he has never flinched—either as an enforcement officer or as an educator for civil liberties. His Freedom Train, bringing the Declaration of Independence and other priceless papers to the American people, will go down in history as one of the most constructive moves ever made to educate the nation on civil liberties.

And few people will ever know how long and hard he worked to organize that train.

Assignment: America

From Inez To Ingrid

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Miss Ingrid Bergman's decision to divorce a husband afflicts me with a midsummer complaint known as galloping apathy (by humidity out of indifference).

It is her resolve to retire from the movies, to get away with it all, that fills me with nervous foreboding.

I am of the unshakable opinion that one Garbo to a generation is good measure, pressed down and running over. Miss Bergman's entry will only congest an already over-crowded field.

Furthermore, it leads to a widespread belief that the behavior pattern of Swedish moom picture stars is in a rut.

Like Miss Garbo, Miss Bergman seems determined to retire from the silver screen rather than from the public eye. Naturally, the first step in this direction is the selection of a disguise at once distinctive and easily penetrated, something that will stand out with the approximate visibility of a sore thumb or a brandied nose.

Miss Garbo solved this matter brilliantly. Even a tiny tot in darkest Africa knows that a tall, lank woman with a wilted ten-gallon hat at one end, ground-grippers at the other and dispirited tweeds in between is Greta.

What Garbo has don, Bergman can do. I have been giving the matter serious thought and feel I have evolved the perfect disguise for Ingrid.

I have finally discarded the idea of a beard for Miss Bergman (false, naturally. I did not expect her to grow her own), after doodling with Piccadilly weepers and a Van Dyke. Since World War II, there are so many Bohemians with bears around New York that even one in skirts could hardly get a second glance.

* * *

Bergman Could Learn.

WHAT I suggest as a disguise for Bergman is a derby and barefoot sandals. These will be the only props she will have to buy. She already has a good, basic garment in that formless raincoat, belted about her equator, in which Ingrid has been so constantly photographed in Stromboli.

As a matter of fact, I regard that raincoat as a stroke of genius already on a par with the Garbo tweeds. Bounded on the south by barefoot sandals, it is sensational, colossal, and downright distingue. (Not to be confused with "mistinguette," which is French for "kid with class").

All right, so Bergman is all set for civilian life with a suitable disguise known in professional parlance as the conspicuous camouflage of the neon incognito.

The next step is to engage in a continuous public wrassle to preserve her privacy. It will be hard to improve on the Garbo technique. When Miss Garbo is in New York, for instance, she always frequents such virtually unknown, hole-in-corner retreats as the Colony restaurant, El Morocco, "21," and the Stork club.

Miss Bergman can achieve the same effect by having her breakfast served by liveried flunkies on the south platform of the BMT subway at Times Square during the morning rush hour.

Then there is the delayed take, or slow motion attempt to cover up the face, when a photographer is sighted, which Garbo has worked out to perfection. This takes practice.

At first Bergman must be careful not to turn her head or cover her face with her derby too quickly or the picture will be no good and the papers won't run it. But an old hand like Bergman will soon learn the technique.

For her motion picture public, Bergman's announcement that she will retire to private life means further chaos in a confused world.

The awful tension will be heightened, as in the case of Garbo by the semi-annual reports that she will come out of retirement, that she will make a picture, that she won't make a picture, that she's up, she's down, she's in, she's out, she's coming, she's going—

The suspense is killing me! But not much.

Alcoholics Cured.

That alcoholism, when approached as a disease and not as a problem involving morals, can be cured in a high percentage of cases, is being effectively demonstrated in Rochester, N. Y., by the medical director of the Eastman Kodak Co.

As a result of practical application of the enlightened view that the alcoholic is a sick man, who wants, sometimes desperately, to recover, Dr. John L. Norris is able to report success in 65 per cent of the cases treated.

This is a record that should be of particular interest to American industry, to which alcoholism has long been a headache and a problem that costs millions of dollars in lost man hours.

Dr. Norris has not worked single-handed. He has had the co-operation of other physicians, psychiatrists, welfare groups and Alcoholics Anonymous.—Detroit News.

Use Roadblocks, Curfew To Halt Polio Outbreak

(By Associated Press)

Roadblocks and a county wide curfew at 7 p m are the latest by Darke county in the fight against infantile paralysis

Greenville city police and Darke county deputy sheriffs set up the roadblocks yesterday on four main highways that lead westward to the Indiana line. They were instructed to inform motorists bound for Greenville and other Darke county towns to return rome unless their business was urgent.

The curfew was put into effect last night Bars and restaurants were ordered to close at 7 p m Only a few ice cream stores and other businesses were allowed to remain open beyond that hour

Congregating anywhere is prohibited

The precautionary measures against the dreaded disease came as the 343rd case of polio in the state was reported to State Health Director Dr John D Porterfield

The disease was running well ahead of 1948 when only 234 cases were reported in Ohio by a similar date Dr Porterfield however, insisted that the present outbreak cannot be called an epidemic But he added the state is entering a crucial period in the current polio period

Darke county was not the only locality to take extra precaution ary measures against the disease

Although it is not known how the disease is transmitted, health officials throughout the state were using any method they considered necessary to control flies and other known germ-bearing insects

At Troy city Service Director Homer E Anderson said fogging of alleys with DDT would start next week in an effort to kill flies and insects which may carry the disease

At Wilmington Dr H Richard Bath chairman of the Clinton county medical society said the city would be sprayed with DDT today and tomorrow

At Camden in Preble county where no polio has been reported yet the village council announced it is banning a homecoming celebration Aug 23 to 27

Baldness, Rheumatism, Horse Cured By Mysterious Serum

PARIS — (UP) — In the eternal search for eternal youth, a French scientist has come up with a serum he claims has cured rheumatism restored hair and virility and enabled a doddering horse to race again

Dr Michel Bardach a chemist at the Paris Pasteur institute, developed the serum which an institute spokesman said might be ready for sale in pharmacies in a year It has been used chiefly on animals so far

Prof Georges Brouardel, vice-president of the French Academy of Medicine and president of the French Red Cross, said it was "too early" to tell yet about Bardach s discovery

The Bardach serum reportedly

1 Rejuvenated a photographer worn out from overwork so that he regained full energy and a 'full crop of black hair"

2 Cured an aged former theatrical artist tortured by rheumatism so that she gained full use of her legs after three treatments

3 Rejuvenated an old and decepit horse.

Serve Peaches Now; Preserve Them For Later

The time is right—the fruit is ripe—and it's a peach-y season. Yes, lucky owners of graceful peach trees are carefully hand picking the lovely ripe fruit, and those of us less fortunate are just as carefully choosing our baskets of beauties in the market We all know the season is short but with a little work the good-eating pleasures can be extended right into winter By canning, of course

Peaches should not only be canned in halves or sliced, but "put up" in preserves, purees and peach butter And what could be easier Puree, for example, is just a matter of washing the fruit, cutting it in half to remove the pit and then steaming 7 minutes It is then pureed by running it through a food mill, adding 1 cup of sugar to each 8 cups of puree and then quickly and carefully sealing it in sterilized jars or freezer containers When you pick over peaches for canning, removing those with specks, remember the specks can be cut out and the good part used for puree And there you have the wonderful makings for pies, puddings, custards, and sauces all winter long

Here's just one recipe for using that rich puree now for a cool refreshing summer dessert and all winter long at the end of a not-much-room-for-dessert meal.

PEACH WHIP

1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
¼ cup water
1 cup peach puree
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 egg white

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt Add water and puree and cook until well-thickened Add lemon juice and rind Whip egg white until stiff, add hot fruit mixture gradually, beating constantly. Pour into serving dish or sherbet glasses, chill and serve with custard sauce Serves 6

CUSTARD SAUCE

1 egg yolk
1 3 cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Mix thoroughly egg yolk sugar salt and milk Place in top of double boiler over hot water and cook gently, stirring constantly, until mixture coats the spoon Remove from heat add vanilla, cool and serve on fruit whip

Williamsburg Recipes Revived

Summertime salads were as popular in Williamsburg two centuries ago as they are today, according to old recipes found in family records during historical research for the restoration of the old Virginia city. Hot weather was a problem then as now, and the Colonial housewives devised many cool salads for summertime refreshment

Many of these old recipes, some dating back to the early 18th century, are included in THE WILLIAMSBURG ART OF COOKERY, by Mrs Helen Bullock, a collection that shows to what extent the original inhabitants of the colonial capital city had perfected their culinary arts The book is the result of extensive research and experimentation to bring the old recipes "up to date" for present-day use One of the most popular salad recipes included is for Chicken Salad, dating from pre-Revolutionary times

Cut one well boiled Hen into Dice, add an equal quantity of Celery cut into small pieces, the whites of four boiled Eggs, Chopped rather fine Mix these ingredients well together, just before the Salad is to be made, then serve the Dressing with it. DRESSING: Yolks of four Eggs, one Gill (one-half Cup) of good Vinegar (or Juice of Lemon) if that is preferred, one Gill of Olive Oil, one and one-half Teaspoonfuls of Salt, one Quarter Teaspoonful of Cayenne Pepper, one large Tablespoonful of Mixed Mustard, a little sugar to give the Piquant Zest to the Vinegar. Beat the Yolks of four Eggs to a light Cream, then stir the Vinegar gradually into them, beating hard all the Time. Stir the mixture over the Fire until it thickens, then remove, and beat gradually into it the Sugar, Salt and Pepper and Oil. Do not fail to beat it well. When very Smooth set it upon ice to become well-chilled.

Probably one of the all-time favorites in both colonial days and in the present is what the old recipes call "Gold Slaw" A recipe of around 1837, tested and proved one hundred years later in the Market Square Tavern in restored Williamsburg is as follows

Cut up a quantity of cabbage and sprinkle upon it a Teaspoonful Salt. For a large Dish, use two Eggs, a Piece of Butter the size of an Egg, One-half Cupful Water, one-half Teacupful Vinegar; beat the Eggs very light; add the Water, Vinegar and Butter, with a little Pepper and Mustard, and pour while hot over the Cabbage.

Shrimp and cubes of buttery ripe Calavo topped with a peppy cocktail sauce are good partners for a festive cocktail Cut the Calavo in half, remove seed and skin and cut the fruit into bite-sized pieces If you use canned shrimps their flavor will be improved if you wash them in fresh cold water before using them

A particularly shrewd and clever course of action may be the means of advancing most ambitious projects already far along on the way of success and progress, temporarily held up by some disappointing or static conditions A wily or keen sizing up of hidden factors perhaps jealousy or enmity, may melt away by tact, finesse or sagacious "hunch" anent underlying sources Under this urge, the reputation, credit and unusual talents may be vital factors in turning the tide to surprising heights

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be surprised at the curious turn of lagging affairs of major consequence Such may be turned into spectacular channels of progress, with resources, talents and initiative finding hidden factors underlying recent obstacles enmity or personal undercurrents of a perplexing or baffling character A sagacious shrewd insight into deceptive or intriguing circumstances may bring about conspicuous success "The still small voice" may be safely heeded in such strange emergency.

A good way to use up a little leftover rice is to put it into an omelet — about half a cup to a two-egg puffy omelet Serve with hot biscuits and currant jelly or peach preserves

Will Fight Cattle TB

County commissioners have entered into an agreement providing for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis from cattle in the county.

The agreement is a renewal and runs for two years. It is between the commissioners and the State Department of Agriculture, cooperating with the Bureau of Animal Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Under the plan, the county will assist in applying tuberculin tests to cattle in the county. The other agencies will provide ear tags, tuberculin and other necessary equipment.

The commissioners appropriated $6,000 out of the general fund, in accordance with Ohio statute, for employment of veterinarians. A veterinarian will be paid not more than $15 a day, and his helper $8 a day, for days worked. He will be appointed by the department of agriculture. The new agreement begins Dec. 1. Farmers receive the service free.

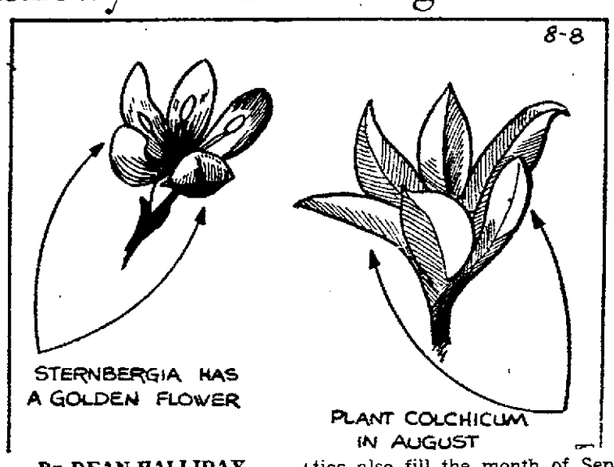
Today's Garden Graph

Showy Fall-Blooming Bulbs



By DEAN HALLIDAY

For bulbous blooms in the garden about the middle of September, plant autumn-flowering colchicums, fall crocuses and Sternbergia lutea as soon as they can be delivered in August.

The latter have dark strap-shaped leaves which are thick and durable. These appear soon after the planting, and are followed quite soon by thick textured golden flowers, one of which is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The flowers of Sternbergia are crocus-like in appearance except that they never open fully as do the crocuses.

Plant Sternbergia bulbs about six inches deep in a warm, well drained location. Cover with a dry mulch in the winter.

The autumn colchicum varieties also fill the month of September with bloom. They tend toward magenta or rosy purple in color so must not be planted near the golden Sternbergia. The flower of the colchicum, illustrated, resembles the crocus, but has six stamens instead of three. In their coarse and heavy leaves which appear in the spring, they also differ from the crocuses. Colchicum leaves die down in the summer, leaving bare spaces, until the flowers appear on leafless stalks in the fall.

Plant colchicum bulbs two or three inches below the surface of the ground, which should be fertile and well drained.

There are many varieties of autumn crocuses, and they may be had to flower in September, October and November. Plant them four inches deep in good, well drained soil.

Will Study Cold, Ulcers

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Federal Security administration has announced grants of $2,056,426 for the study of such ailments as peptic ulcers and the common cold.

The grants will support medical and allied research projects at non-federal institutions. The projects include studies of deafness and speech defects and the relation of the endocrine glands to aging.

They include: Ohio—Children's hospital, Cincinnati, $9,612; Ohio State university, $19,534, University of Cincinnati, $17,128; Western Reserve university $6,804.

The coyote now has expanded its territory from the west east to Ohio, and north to Alaska.

Statue Honors General Sherman

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A statue of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman will be unveiled Thursday afternoon on the spot where he gave his famous "war is hell" speech Aug. 11, 1880 in Franklin park, Columbus.

L. Ewing Jones, who listened as a youth of 18 as he stood by his father's side that day, will lend his father's battle flag for the dedication ceremony. Jones' father was commander of the GAR encampment addressed by the fiery Civil War general and President Rutherford B. Hayes.

Fashion Dictates For This Fall:

Full Skirts, High Hems, Shapely Stems

PARIS — (UP8 — No girdles.

That style touch came yesterday from no less a personage than Christian Dior, inventor of the new look, high potentate of high fashion.

The ladies gasped with pleasure. After seeing the full skirts that required no corsets, they crowded around Dior to kiss his cheeks Tears brimmed in Dior's eyes

"That fact I have kept many skirts full is very important,' he sobbed happily. "I am overwhelmed by the praise"

Not only were the skirts full, the hemlines were high. The man who first sent the hemline down displayed dresses yesterday which fell only two inches below the knee—16 and a half inches from the floor.

Bebe Shopp, Miss America of 1948, and Mrs Anthony Drexel Biddle were among the 500 fashion fans who crowded Dior s sumptuous salon.

Said Miss America afterward "It's too breathless to talk about."

Dior's suits showed short, straight skirts with interest carried to the top of the silhouette. The jackets had bloused backs, medium collars and were pinched in tight at the waist and inch-wide leather belts

Indications had been that the 1950 look would be a slinky, hip-hugging silhouette demanding slim waists, less pointed busts and good-looking legs.

"Women at the crossroads of our century are demanding youth, movement, comfort and good taste in their clothes." designer Jacques Heim said.

"It is for this reason my fall and winter collection converges into the 'free line''

Straight skirts were the order of the day in Heim's highly-wearable collection.

Hooves Still Thunder On Western Soil

LAWTON, Okla —UP)— The man who more than 30 years ago launched a fight to keep longhorn cattle, once the "meat of America" from extinction today manages the largest longhorn herd in the world.

He is Earl Drummond, ranger at the Wichita Mountains wildlife refuge near here, where more than 220 longhorns graze under his care

Drummond decided in 1917 that something should be done to perserve the rangy species. He had seen longhorns disappearing in Oklahoma and when the famed Texas rancher, Charles Goodnight, told him the breed was growing scarce in Texas, too, he decided it was time to act.

Two long-time friends of Drummond, Will C. Barnes and John H. Hatten, both forest service officials, offered to help in his campaign.

U. S. Sen. John B. Kendrick, a retired Texas cattleman, took the fight into Congress and an appropriation finally was granted

What happened next proved Drummond was right about the disappearing honghorn.

For 10 years, the forest service scoured thousands of miles of Texas grasslands from El Paso to the Gulf coast. By 1927, the service had located only 20 cows, three bulls, three steers and four calves in the territory where hundreds of thousands of longhorns formerly grazed.

Book Tells Of Schools

WASHINGTON — UP) — The federal government, which collects nearly all types of information, has come up with a 496-page volume telling about each public and private high school in the United States

The directory was prepared by the U. S. Office of Education and issued by the Federal Security Agency.

For each listed school, the directory gives information as to type of organization, number of years in the school, size of the town in which it is located, the race served, enrollment by sex, the number of graduates in 1946, and the total professional staff

It also tells whether private schools are accredited, and if so, by whom and on what standards

The Government Printing Office in Washington will sell it to anyone paying $1 50

Hundreds Still Lie In Ruins

Trapped Alive In Quake Tragedy

QUTO, Ecuador — (UP) — Witnesses said yesterday that untold hundreds still are buried alive in the rubble left by the violent earthquake that devastated central Ecuador four days ago.

Most seemed doomed, they said. Great chunks of concrete tumbled by the earthquake have trapped them. Only mechanical excavators and derricks could free them, and these are unavailable.

Enrique Hurtado a member of the staff of the newspaper El Commercio, said he and three friends went to ruined Pelileo Monday

"We spot-checked three wrecked houses," Hurtado said "Out of the three, we removed eight persons still alive One of them, a boy of seven, died on the return trip to Ambato Gangrene had set in in his legs

"As we made our way down the main street of the town climbing over the rubble and decomposed bodies we could hear muffled weak cries for help We tried to help but we could not dig down to where the cries came from

"We found only 20 soldiers who were standing guard They had tried to help but they cannot extricate the victims with their bare hands

"They prefer to stand on the outskirts of town where they can't hear the cries"

Hurtado said he believed similar conditions could be found in other wrecked towns where rescue work has been delayed by lack of equipment and communications.

To get rescue crews into towns whose roads are blocked, the government is considering dropping them by parachute

Drenching rains have added to the misery of 125 000 homeless in the earthquake area some 70 miles south of Quito

Victims Trapped

BOGOTA Columbia — (UP) — An eyewitness account of the earthquake that struck the Ambato area of Ecuador said today that the disaster began with a noise like a heavy explosion

The account was given by a resident of Ambato who suffered a broken leg The victim told his story from a hospital bed to the Quito correspondent of the Bogota newspaper El Liberal

"From the early hours of morning, we heard muffled roars from below the earth but since that happened frequently nobody paid much attention At noon there was a light shake but nothing else happened

"At 2 20 there was a heavy explosion I was walking toward the principal plaza and felt the earth sink under me People fled in panic from stores churches and other public places

"Women ran out with children in their arms Adults fell to their knees, confessing their sins at the top of their voices and asking forgiveness from the Almighty

'Buildings started to teeter and some collapsed to the ground with a great roar Everyone was kneeling or running terrified toward the plaza and open space

'Large blocks of stone from church towers and the taller buildings began falling on the panic-stricken multitude Only a muffled shriek was heard drowned out by an immense mass of cement and stone

"A large number of people sought refuge in one of the churches Someone closed the main door to keep more refugees out Five minutes later the whole building fell in.

'The city hall also burned large numbers of victims when it collapsed I remember running away when I saw a three-story building start to fall

"Apparently a concrete fragment broke my leg because when I regained consciousness I was here in this tent hospital"

Claims Most Interesting Persons Are Children and Animal Trainers

NEW YORK—What kind of people are the most interesting?

Yes, I know live people are—but what kind of live people?

William Hazlitt in a celebrated essay once concluded that the conversation of authors was the most interesting of any. This may have been true in a more leisurely day, when writers pushed a goose quill across the page.

It isn't true any more. Authors are a somber crew today. I eavesdrop at their gatherings fairly often, and they are like nothing more than a convention of mummies. Any bon mots they have in mind they don't say aloud; they save them for their electric typewriters.

Rather than talk they prefer silently playing the "match game" to see who buys the next drink.

Perhaps they are chary of using words because they know the value of words—they are paid for using them. When they do break out in conversation, it is usually along these lines:

A. "Is your literary agent as big a louse as mine? What do they do for their 10 per cent?"

B. "My publisher is a robber."

C. "My publisher is an ignoramus."

D. "My publisher's mother once won the best - of - show award at the Westchester Kennel club."

E. "Have you read that stinking novel by Joe Doakes, "Love Under the Neon Sign?' How did it make the best-seller list? I could sneeze a better book than that."

No, there is nothing more disillusioning than the conversation of authors.

Financiers could be fun, if they'd relax and really tell you what's going on in the money market. But they don't — probably because they don't know themselves. Weather forecasters, I find, are pretty much like old sailors — after the third hot air mass filters through the conversation you can't believe a word they say.

Generals are full of medals and quaint military lore. But in disucssing their campaigns they identify their armies with themselves. They say, "He (the enemy) hit me in my flank, and hurt me a little, but I cut him up and went on." Privates and corporals never talk that way.

Barbers and waiters talk at you instead of to you. They just flatter you — or ignore you.

Women are like generals and financiers. They want to discuss their big operations. But at least they don't hestitate to give you the real story.

Doctors, lawyers, undertakers, bartenders — they all meet the public but few will tell the secrets of their trade. Their shop talk is for themselves alone.

Who then are the most interesting conversationalists? To me they are children, photographers, musicians, and wild animal trainers.

They are always fresh and new, they are never dull or stale. And they will talk about anything.

Jack Lait

Gives Lowdown On Tie-In Between ALP Votes, 'Poor Relief' Racket

Our several references to "relief chislers" has brought forth heavy reader response. Many soft-hearted, naive folk who are congenitally for the under dog took us to task, called us cynical and cruel.

Most of the correspondence, though, consisted of case-histories of the growing class of professional dole-conniver, often outright cheaters, setting forth their dodges. We may assemble these into a piece before our tenure in this column expires. Only a few give names and addresses, and those we are having checked.

When we first put our finger on the dirtiest spot in America, where "welfare" is wholesale business and deliberate political ammunition, we were assailed as "picking on" the Puerto Ricans in New York.

These, in hundreds of thousands, have poured in (101,000 in 1947 by air alone, according to official Civilian Aeronautics board figures) and spread, but concentrated mostly in the district of Rep. Vito Marcantonio, boss of the radical American Labor party, whom they elect no matter on what ticket he runs, and he has won on three. We have reported conditions in his Little Spain section at length.

But we withheld, because it was then highly confidential, any tales of first-hand experiences while accompanying investigators for the committee on un-American Activities, seeking facts in connection with some unusual occurrences during Marc's latest successful campaign, against both Republicans and Democrats.

With his re-election and the return of a New Deal Congress, the probe was abandoned.

Accompanying an out - of - town investigator, I made several tours of the plague spots in the 18th C. D. In one building, which we entered at 2 o'clock one morning, we could smell the marijuana two stories above. We climbed up and knocked. There was no answer. I said, "I know how you can get in." I banged on the door and called loudly, "Open up — I'm from the home relief."

Those are the magic words up that way. We heard chains rattling. Then a double patented lock ratcheted free. The door swung out an inch. A sleepy Puerto Rican boy looked out through the crack. We pushed our way in.

The congressional detective had police power. He flashed his credentials. He promised the lad he would not be prosecuted for anything if he told us the full truth. The boy was scared, and under questioning he talked. Here was his story:

He was 19, had come from Puerto Rico a few months before, His passage, in a gutted old land-plane, had been free. He was solicited in San Juan, promised transportation and $68 a month public welfare, immediately on arrival.

He had voted — for Marcantonio — though he was under age and hadn't been in the country or city or state long enough to register; in fact he didn't know what "register meant. His cheoks began arriving regularly from the first.

He said, "I think everybody I know is on relief. That's why these people came here. I wouldn't have come if that wasn't in it. My whole family never saw $68 a month on the island. And I make $40 a month and my keep here besides.

Still, organized agitators and soft-hearted men and women who cannot believe ill of "the poor," berate me and will not believe me when I say home relief is to a large extent a planned and conspiratorial racket.

In a city which hands out considerably more than $12,000,000 every month, there is room for plenty of skulduggery, as well as much reasonable and honest welfare allotment to the worthy needy. When a 19 - year - old non-registered voter who peddles dope is included, though, it gives you ideas.

Bolin Named Chairman In YMCA Drive

Will Direct Boys' Division

Senior high school student Phillip Bolin has been appointed chairman of the boys' division of the YMCA membership drive and Jack Welsh will assist him as co-chairman, Judge Stuart Cramer, chairman of the boys' work committee, announced today.

Harold Mansfield has been appointed as advisor to the boys' division for the drive, which begins Sept. 7 and ends Sept. 15.

At a meeting of chairmen for the drive at the Y last night, Clarence Van Derau accepted a goal of 350 men memberships for the industrial division. Van Derau is chairman of the industrial division and Harry Dailey is the co-charman.

Robert Horn, chairman of the general division, accepted a goal of 400 men memberships for the general division. Horn is being assisted by W. A. Brandenburg.

Bolin announced that his committee will seek 500 memberships in the boys' division. The committee will have its own speakers' bureau to solicit members in talks to various youth groups. The committee will also have its own artists designing posters to be used in the drive.

Last year there were 47 "quota-busters" in the entire drive, according to membership Chairman Vernon Smeltzer. A quota-buster is any worker who obtains more than five memberships and secures at least $30 in membership fees, Smeltzer explained.

"We are hoping for 100 'quota-vreakers, this year," Smeltzer added.

Estate Set At $341,323

Attorney William F. Voegele left an estate appraised at $341,323, an inventory filed today in probate court disclosed.

The estate was left to his widow, Mrs. Mary S. Voegele, after $3,500 bequests were made to each of three daughters, and $500 to Margery Ludwig, in recognition of her long years of service in the employ of Mr. Voegele.

The estate includes $221,363 in stocks and bonds; $89,259 in bank accounts and debts receivable; three properties valued at $28,700, and $2,000 in personal goods.

Principal holdings included $72,200 in stock in the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, and $12,500 in stock in the Citizens National Bank and Trust company. Principal bond holdings included $29,154 in Salem city schools, and $17,711 in Dunmore, Pa., bonds.

Talks On New Seabee Unit

Commander Joseph Jerue, SeaBee program officer of the Ninth Naval district, will speak tonight at the Naval armory to the men interested in the new SeaBee reserve unit to be organized in Mansfield, Commander John A. Smith announced today.

The new unit will have five officers and 40 enlisted men who will draw a total of $10,000 annually for their reserve activities.

There are openings in the unit for former SeaBee personnel and other qualified persons whether army or civilian.

The men will be specialists, Smith said. There will be none ranking lower than second class.

Men interested in joining the unit are invited to attend the meeting at the Armory tonight at 7.

SEA OF DESTRUCTION—Rubble and the smell of death linger on in Ecuador where last Friday's earthquake claimed an estimated 4,700 lives. Sixty children were killed when the cathedral shown at left was shaken down. Scores were buried in the ruins as village after village collapsed. Some of those buried can still be heard pleading for aid, but rescuers have no mechanical equipment big enough to move the rubble and free them. The car at right was mashed nearly flat by a portion of a building which toppled over on it.

Child, 2 Boys Escape Hurts

Children Bruised In City Accidents

A three-year-old West Third street child and two youthful bicycle riders escaped serious injury, yesterday in auto accidents in the city.

Leslie Jean Callihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Callihan, 575 West Third street, suffered abrasions to the right hip and left foot when she ran from behind a parked car into the path of an auto driven by Robert Small, 36, of 100 Western avenue.

Police said the accident occurred about 5:15 p. m. The child's mother said the little girl was struck in front of her home when she saw her grandfather drive up to the house. She was treated at General hospital and released.

Merritt Krickwood, 14, of 130 East Fourth street, and Russell Lee, 11 East Third, escaped injury when a bicycle, operated by Kirkwood, collided with the rear fender of a car, driven by Paul Heckel, 360 Wood street.

Police said the accident occurred at Second and Adams streets at 11:55 p. m. yesterday. The Lee boy, riding on the crossbar of the bike, jumped off before the accident. The Kirkwood boy was thrown over the rear of the car and to the pavement by the impact. Kirkwood was summoned to bicycle court Saturday morning for failing to stop at a stop sign.

2 Beer Firms Deny Charges

Two Mansfield beer distributors have filed answers in common pleas court to a $20,000 equity action brought by Mrs. Elina Prinz, who operates a cafe at 55½ East Fourth street. Mrs. Prinz charged eight beer distributors refused to sell to her after she advertised five-cent beer.

The answer were filed by Richland Beverage Inc., and the Hill Distributing company.

Both firms ask dismissal of her petition against them on grounds they were not distributors of draft beer. The Richland firm says it has handled only canned and bottled beer since April 21 and the Hill company said it has carried only canned and bottled beer since Jan. 1.

Ample Teaching Staffs Reported

Ohio high schools will have an adequate number of teachers this fall for the first time in many years, says Clyde Hissong, state superintendent of public instruction.

On the local scene the situation has not been so serious. The Mansfield and Richland county superintendents' offices reported this morning that they have had full high school teaching staffs for the past two years.

John H. Eisaman, clerk of the Mansfield Board of Education, said Mansfield's high school teaching staff was complete. County Superintendent Boyd Robinson's office indicated that the county high schools were adequately staffed with only one vacancy, that of home economics teacher Butler High school.

Hissong said yesterday some 3,280 new high school teachers have been issued teaching certificates by Harold J. Bowers, supervisor of teacher education and certification.

The number of new teachers exceeds the previous high set in 1946 by 500 Hissong reported.

He said the adequate supply of new teachers was due to the record number who were graduated from Ohio colleges this summer. However, a great shortage still exists in the number of elementary teachers, Dr. Hissong added.

The state superintendent estimated that 1,000 or more elementary teachers a year would be needed for the next five or six years to fill a deficiency in the number of lower grade instructors available and to keep up with the needs of growing elementary school enrollments.

Dr. Hissong said that a surplus of high school teachers now exists in the fields of physical education, English and the social studies. But, he added, more students now in teacher training may choose to switch to the elementary teaching field.

Another inducement, he said, is the fact that in 92 per cent of all school districts in Ohio, an elementary teacher with a degree receives the same salary as a high school instructor with a degree.

THEY REMEMBERED —

It was a belated birthday party for Safety-Service Director Earl T. Garrison at city hall yesterday, but everyone enjoyed it just the same. Garrison's birthday was Friday but the press of business prevented the Municipal building workers from honoring him. Yesterday's party was complete even if there was one mysterious note. There were only six candles on the cake. No accurate figure was released by the city officials by which it was possible to determine the number of years the candles represented.

FLOWER ATTRACTIONS —

Unusual plants in two Mansfield homes are drawing the attention of friends and neighbors this week. Last night neighbors gathered at the home of W. Ralph McGraw, 266 Helen avenue, to witness the flowering of a night blooming cereus. The plant had three large blossoms. Today Mrs. Clarence French, Pawnee avenue, reported a cactus she has had for the past 10 years is blooming for the first time. Mrs. French said the plant, which is about 16 inches high, has one large white bloom and three small buds. She obtained the cactus from a cousin 10 years ago, but it had never bloomed before.

Report Due Next Tuesday

Educational Program Mapped

The citizens' committee for a council-manager type of city government decided last night to canvass civic, veterans', business and union organizations to provide 15 candidates to run for a charter commission in November.

J. C. Gorman, who will contact the organizations, said in that way "a real cross-section of the city's citizens" would be running for places on the commission.

He was asked to submit the names of the candidates for presentation at a meeting next Tuesday night. The committee agreed the 15 must be actively pro-council-manager.

An educational program to acquaint the people of Mansfield with the council-manager form of government will be undertaken. Al Preyer, committee chairman, said he would ask W. C. Peterson and Gilmore Hiett to prepare the groundwork for an educational program. One of the suggestions offered was the mailing of letters, explaining the plan, and enclosing sample ballots.

Preyer read a list of 10 persons who have indicated they would like to appear before organizations to explain the council-manager form of government. He asked that more names of persons interested in making talks be submitted at the next meeting.

City Council has passed an ordinance to place on the November ballot the question: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?" A "yes" vote is a vote for a council-manager form of government for Mansfield.

That ordinance provides at the same time for electing 15 persons to a commission which will prepare a charter to give the city a council-manager form of government, if that type of government is approved by the voters.

4-H Teams To Compete

Two 4-H judging teams from here will compete at "Ohio Dairy Day," Friday at Wooster. That event will start at 10 a. m., daylight saving time.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said there will be exhibits and talks by personnel of the experiment station. A ladies program has also been scheduled.

Farm Picnic Set Aug. 21

Final plans are being made for the sixth annual picnic of the Farmers Harvest group to be held Sunday, Aug. 21, in Logan's woods on Logan road, south of Mansfield.

There will be a basket picnic lunch at noon with lemonade, coffee, and ice cream furnished by the committee. A program of games and other entertainment will follow the lunch.

The annual picnics began five years ago when a group of neighborhood farmers got together for an outdoor dinner. Last year 250 attended the annual outing.

Guest speaker for this year's picnic will be Edward Randall of radio station WRFD, Worthington.

Hundreds Still Lie In Ruins

Trapped Alive In Quake Tragedy

QUITO, Ecuador. — (UP) — Witnesses said yesterday that untold hundreds still are buried alive in the rubble left by the violent earthquake that devastated central Ecuador four days ago.

Most seemed doomed, they said. Great chunks of concrete tumbled by the earthquake have trapped them. Only mechanical excavators and derricks could free them, and these are unavailable.

Enrique Hurtado, a member of the staff of the newspaper El Commercio, said he and three friends went to ruined Pelileo Monday.

"We spot-checked three wrecked houses," Hurtado said. "Out of the three, we removed eight persons still alive. One of them, a boy of seven, died on the return trip to Ambato. Gangrene had set in in his legs.

"As we made our way down the main street of the town, climbing over the rubble and decomposed bodies, we could hear muffled weak cries for help. We tried to help but we could not dig down to where the cries came from.

"We found only 20 soldiers who were standing guard. They had tried to help, but they cannot extricate the victims with their bare hands.

"They prefer to stand on the outskirts of town, where they can't hear the cries."

Hurtado said he believed similar conditions could be found in other wrecked towns where rescue work has been delayed by lack of equipment and communications.

To get rescue crews into towns whose roads are blocked, the government is considering dropping them by parachute.

Drenching rains have added to the misery of 125,000 homeless in the earthquake area some 70 miles south of Quito.

Victims Trapped

BOGOTA, Columbia — (UP) — An eyewitness account of the earthquake that struck the Ambato area of Ecuador said today that the disaster began with a noise like a heavy explosion.

The account was given by a resident of Ambato who suffered a broken leg. The victim told his story from a hospital bed to the Quito correspondent of the Bogota newspaper El Liberal.

"From the early hours of morning, we heard muffled roars from below the earth but since that happened frequently nobody paid much attention. At noon there was a light shake, but nothing else happened.

"At 2:20 there was a heavy explosion. I was walking toward the principal plaza and felt the earth sink under me. People fled in panic from stores, churches and other public places.

"Women ran out with children in their arms. Adults fell to their knees, confessing their sins at the top of their voices and asking forgiveness from the Almighty.

"Buildings started to teeter and some collapsed to the ground with a great roar. Everyone was kneeling or running terrified toward the plaza and open spaces.

"Large blocks of stone from church towers and the taller buildings began falling on the panic-stricken multitude. Only a muffled shriek was heard, drowned out by an immense mass of cement and stone.

"A large number of people sought refuge in one of the churches. Someone closed the main door to keep more refugees out. Five minutes later the whole building fell in.

"The city hall also buried large numbers of victims when it collapsed. I remember running away when I saw a three-story building start to fall.

"Apparently a concrete fragment broke my leg, because when I regained consciousness I was here in this tent hospital."

PLENTY OF BRASS—Winding up their western European tour, the U. S. joint chiefs of staff returned home Tuesday. One of their top meetings was that with Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery at his headquarters in Fontainebleau, France, where planning of the five nations pact took place. Claims Most Interesting Persons Are Children and Animal Trainers

NEW YORK—What kind of people are the most interesting?

Yes, I know live people are—but what kind of live people?

William Hazlitt in a celebrated essay once concluded that the conversation of authors was the most interesting of any. This may have been true in a more leisurely day, when writers pushed a goose quill across the page.

It isn't true any more. Authors are a somber crew today. I eavesdrop at their gatherings fairly often, and they are like nothing more than a convention of mummies. Any bon mots they have in mind they don't say aloud; they save them for their electric typewriters.

Rather than talk they prefer silently playing the "match game" to see who buys the next drink.

Perhaps they are chary of using words because they know the value of words—they are paid for using them. When they do break out in conversation, it is usually along these lines:

A. "Is your literary agent as big a louse as mine? What do they do for their 10 per cent?"

B. "My publisher is a robber."

C. "My publisher is an ignoramus."

D. "My publisher's mother once won the best - of - show award at the Westchester Kennel club."

E. "Have you read that stinking novel by Joe Doakes, "Love Under the Neon Sign?" How did it make the best-seller list? I could sneeze a better book than that."

No, there is nothing more disillusioning than the conversation of authors.

Financiers could be fun, if they'd relax and really tell you what's going on in the money market. But they don't — probably because they don't know themselves. Weather forecasters, I find, are pretty much like old sailors — after the third hot air mass filters through the conversation you can't believe a word they say.

Generals are full of medals and quaint military lore. But in disucssing their campaigns they identify their armies with themselves. They say, "He (the enemy) hit me in my flank, and hurt me a little, but I cut him up and went on." Privates and corporals never talk that way.

Barbers and waiters talk at you instead of to you. They just flatter you — or ignore you.

Women are like generals and financiers. They want to discuss their big operations. But at least they don't hestitate to give you the real story.

Doctors, lawyers, undertakers, bartenders — they all meet the public but few will tell the secrets of their trade. Their shop talk is for themselves alone.

Who then are the most interesting conversationalists? To me they are children, photographers, musicians, and wild animal trainers.

They are always fresh and new, they are never dull or stale. And they will talk about anything.

Gives Lowdown On Tie-In Between ALP Votes, 'Poor Relief' Racket

Our several references to "relief chislers" has brought forth heavy reader response. Many soft-hearted, naive folk who are congenitally for the under dog took us to task, called us cynical and cruel.

Most of the correspondence, though, consisted of case-histories of the growing class of professional dole-connivers, often outright cheaters, setting forth their dodges. We may assemble these into a piece before our tenure in this column expires. Only a few give names and addresses, and those we are having checked.

When we first put our finger on the dirtiest spot in America, where "welfare" is wholesale business and deliberate political ammunition, we were assailed as "picking on" the Puerto Ricans in New York.

These, in hundreds of thousands, have poured in (101,000 in 1947 by air alone, according to official Civilian Aeronautics board figures) and spread, but concentrated mostly in the district of Rep. Vito Marcantonio, boss of the radical American Labor party, whom they elect no matter on what ticket he runs, and he has won on three. We have reported conditions in his Little Spain section at length.

But we withheld, because it was then highly confidential, any tales of first-hand experiences while accompanying investigators for the committee on un-American Activities, seeking facts in connection with some unusual occurrences during Marc's latest successful campaign, against both Republicans and Democrats.

With his re-election and the return of a New Deal Congress, the probe was abandoned.

Accompanying an out - of - town investigator, I made several tours of the plague spots in the 18th C. D. In one building, which we entered at 2 o'clock one morning, we could smell the marijuana two stories above. We climbed up and knocked. There was no answer. I said, "I know how you can get in." I banged on the door and called loudly, "Open up — I'm from the home relief."

Those are the magic words up that way. We heard chains rattling. Then a double patented lock ratcheted free. The door swung out an inch. A sleepy Puerto Rican boy looked out through the crack. We pushed our way in.

The congressional detective had police power. He flashed his credentials. He promised the lad he would not be prosecuted for anything if he told us the full truth. The boy was scared, and under questioning he talked. Here was his story:

He was 19, had come from Puerto Rico a few months before. His passage, in a gutted old land-plane, had been free. He was solicited in San Juan, promised transportation and $68 a month public welfare, immediately on arrival.

He had voted — for Marcantonio — though he was under age and hadn't been in the country or city or state long enough to register; in fact he didn't know what "register meant. His cheeks began arriving regularly from the first.

He said, "I think everybody I know is on relief. That's why these people came here. I wouldn't have come if that wasn't in it. My whole family never saw $68 a month on the island. And I make $40 a month and my keep here besides.

Still, organized agitators and soft-hearted men and women who cannot believe ill of "the poor," berate me and will not believe me when I say home relief is to a large extent a planned and conspiratorial racket.

In a city which hands out considerably more than $12,000,000 every month, there is room for plenty of skulduggery, as well as much reasonable and honest welfare allotment to the worthy needy. When a 19 - year - old non-registered voter who peddles dope is included, though, it gives you ideas.

Bolin Named Chairman In YMCA Drive

Will Direct Boys' Division

Senior high school student Phillip Bolin has been appointed chairman of the boys' division of the YMCA membership drive and Jack Welsh will assist him as co-chairman, Judge Stuart Cramer, chairman of the boys' work committee, announced today.

Harold Mansfield has been appointed as advisor to the boys' division for the drive, which begins Sept. 7 and ends Sept. 15.

At a meeting of chairmen for the drive at the Y last night, Clarence Van Derau accepted a goal of 350 men memberships for the industrial division. Van Derau is chairman of the industrial division and Harry Dailey is the co-charman.

Robert Horn, chairman of the general division, accepted a goal of 400 men memberships for the general division. Horn is being assisted by W. A. Brandenburg.

Bolin announced that his committee will seek 500 memberships in the boys' division. The committee will have its own speakers' bureau to solicit members in talks to various youth groups. The committee will also have its own artists designing posters to be used in the drive.

Last year there were 47 "quota-busters" in the entire drive, according to membership Chairman Vernon Smeltzer. A quota-buster is any worker who obtains more than five memberships and secures at least $30 in membership fees, Smeltzer explained.

"We are hoping for 100 'quota-vreakers, this year," Smeltzer added.

Child, 2 Boys Escape Hurts

Children Bruised In City Accidents

A three-year-old West Third street child and two youthful bicycle riders escaped serious injury yesterday in auto accidents in the city.

Leslie Jean Callihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Callihan, 575 West Third street, suffered abrasions to the right hip and left foot when she ran from behind a parked car into the path of an auto driven by Robert Small, 36, of 100 Western avenue.

Police said the accident occurred about 5:15 p. m. The child's mother said the little girl was struck in front of her home when she saw her grandfather drive up to the house. She was treated at General hospital and released.

Merritt Krickwood, 14, of 130 East Fourth street, and Russell Lee, 11 East Third, escaped injury when a bicycle, operated by Kirkwood, collided with the rear fender of a car, driven by Paul Heckel, 360 Wood street.

Police said the accident occurred at Second and Adams streets at 11:55 p. m. yesterday. The Lee boy, riding on the crossbar of the bike, jumped off before the accident. The Kirkwood boy was thrown over the rear of the car and to the pavement by the impact. Kirkwood was summoned to bicycle court Saturday morning for failing to stop at a stop sign.

2 Beer Firms Deny Charges

Two Mansfield beer distributors have filed answers in common pleas court to a $20,000 equity action brought by Mrs. Elina Prinz, who operates a cafe at 55½ East Fourth street. Mrs. Prinz charged eight beer distributors refused to sell to her after she advertised five-cent beer.

The answer were filed by Richland Beverage Inc., and the Hill Distributing company.

Both firms ask dismissal of her petition against them on grounds they were not distributors of draft beer. The Richland firm says it has handled only canned and bottled beer since April 21 and the Hill company said it has carried only canned and bottled beer since Jan. 1.

SEA OF DESTRUCTION—Rubble and the smell of death linger on in Ecuador where last Friday's earthquake claimed an estimated 4,700 lives. Sixty children were killed when the cathedral shown at left was shaken down. Scores were buried in the ruins as village after village collapsed. Some of those buried can still be heard pleading for aid, but rescuers have no mechanical equipment big enough to move the rubble and free them. The car at right was mashed nearly flat by a portion of a building which toppled over on it.

Ample Teaching Staffs Reported

Ohio high schools will have an adequate number of teachers this fall for the first time in many years, says Clyde Hissong, state superintendent of public instruction.

On the local scene the situation has not been so serious. The Mansfield and Richland county superintendents' offices reported this morning that they have had full high school teaching staffs for the past two years.

John H. Eisaman, clerk of the Mansfield Board of Education, said Mansfield's high school teaching staff was complete. County Superintendent Boyd Robinson's office indicated that the county high schools were adequately staffed with only one vacancy, that of home economics teacher Butler High school.

Hissong said yesterday some 3,280 new high school teachers have been issued teaching certificates by Harold J. Bowers, supervisor of teacher education and certification.

The number of new teachers exceeds the previous high set in 1946 by 500 Hissong reported.

He said the adequate supply of new teachers was due to the record number who were graduated from Ohio colleges this summer. However, a great shortage still exists in the number of elementary teachers, Dr. Hissong added.

The state superintendent estimated that 1,000 or more elementary teachers a year would be needed for the next five or six years to fill a deficiency in the number of lower grade instructors available and to keep up with the needs of growing elementary school enrollments.

Dr. Hissong said that a surplus of high school teachers now exists in the fields of physical education, English and the social studies. But, he added, more students now in teacher training may choose to switch to the elementary teaching field.

Another inducement, he said, is the fact that in 92 per cent of all school districts in Ohio, an elementary teacher with a degree receives the same salary as a high school instructor with a degree.

THEY REMEMBERED —

It was a belated birthday party for Safety-Service Director Earl T. Garrison at city hall yesterday, but everyone enjoyed it just the same. Garrison's birthday was Friday but the press of business prevented the Municipal building workers from honoring him. Yesterday's party was complete even if there was one mysterious note. There were only six candles on the cake. No accurate figure was released by the city officials by which it was possible to determine the number of years the candles represented.

FLOWER ATTRACTIONS —

Unusual plants in two Mansfield homes are drawing the attention of friends and neighbors this week. Last night neighbors gathered at the home of W. Ralph McGraw, 266 Helen avenue, to witness the flowering of a night blooming cereus. The plant had three large blossoms. Today Mrs. Clarence French, Pawnee avenue, reported a cactus she has had for the past 10 years is blooming for the first time. Mrs. French said the plant, which is about 16 inches high, has one large white bloom and three small buds. She obtained the cactus from a cousin 10 years ago, but it had never bloomed before.

Report Due Next Tuesday

Educational Program Mapped

The citizens' committee for a council-manager type of city government decided last night to canvass civic, veterans', business and union organizations to provide 15 candidates to run for a charter commission in November.

J. C. Gorman, who will contact the organizations, said in that way "a real cross-section of the city's citizens" would be running for places on the commission.

He was asked to submit the names of the candidates for presentation at a meeting next Tuesday night. The committee agreed the 15 must be actively pro-council-manager.

An educational program to acquaint the people of Mansfield with the council-manager form of government will be undertaken. Al Preyer, committee chairman, said he would ask W. C. Peterson and Gilmore Hiett to prepare the groundwork for an educational program. One of the suggestions offered was the mailing of letters, explaining the plan, and enclosing sample ballots.

Preyer read a list of 10 persons who have indicated they would like to appear before organizations to explain the council-manager form of government. He asked that more names of persons interested in making talks be submitted at the next meeting.

City Council has passed an ordinance to place on the November ballot the question: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?" A "yes" vote is a vote for a council-manager form of government for Mansfield.

That ordinance provides at the same time for electing 15 persons to a commission which will prepare a charter to give the city a council-manager form of government, if that type of government is approved by the voters.

Farm Picnic Set Aug. 21

Final plans are being made for the sixth annual picnic of the Farmers Harvest group to be held Sunday, Aug. 21, in Logan's woods on Logan road, south of Mansfield.

There will be a basket picnic lunch at noon with lemonade, coffee, and ice cream furnished by the committee. A program of games and other entertainment will follow the lunch.

The annual picnics began five years ago when a group of neighborhood farmers got together for an outdoor dinner. Last year 250 attended the annual outing.

Guest speaker for this year's picnic will be Edward Randall of radio station WRFD, Worthington.

Holmes Fair Next Week Lists Tractor Events

Plan Rodeo; Horse Show Ends Affair

Tractor-Pulling Contest Scheduled

By ARREA REYNOLDS
N - J State Correspondent

MILLERSBURG — Horses and tractors will share the Holmes county Junior Fair spotlight next week when the annual three - day affair is held. It opens Thursday Aug. 18, and concludes with a horse show on Saturday night, Aug. 20.

A feature of this year's "bigger and better" fair will be a rubber - tired tractor pulling contest. This will be held on Friday, Aug. 19 at 9 p. m. in front of the grandstand on the baseball diamond. The contest is limited to farm - owned tractors and open to all farmers. Preminums will be offered in three weight classifications.

Preceding the tractor pulling contest will be a tractor rodeo at 8 p. m. limited to all Holmes county 4-H club members. Frank Kinsey and Carl Fink will have charge of this event while the tractor pulling contest will be in charge of Carl A. Kick, Harry Goodman, Ted Zoller and Irvin Cunningham.

Junior Fair ticket sales are in charge of 4-H club members on a competitive basis with prizes for clubs pacing the sales. The clubs are seeking to raise money to promote club work in the county. This includes the purchase of a movie projector, help defray camp and tour contest expenses and pay advisors' assistants. Several fair booths will be operated by clubs.

A softball game, at 4 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 18, opens the program. A machinery parade is slated for 8 p. m. and the heavyweight horse pulling contest at 8:30 p. m. Friday's program features poultry, sheep and swine judging in the morning. The usual other fair events offer a full - time program until the horse show concludes the affair.

The horse show will be under the auspices of the county agricultural society. H. U. Steimel is chairman of the committee which includes Dr. W. F. Lower and Verle Spreng.

Workers Seek Harvest Jobs

Area apple growers were advised today by C. W. Handley, manager of the local Ohio State Employment service, that his office can supply all needs for apple pickers to harvest this year's bumper crop.

Handley said any orchard keeper may hire workers merely by a calling the employment office in Mansfield.

Apple growers report they are preparing for what may be the largest Ohio apple crop in history. They indicate they may need several thousand extra pickers between Sept. 5 and the middle of October. Some spot picking and harvesting of early apples already has begun.

To meet this need, farm placement representatives in the local employment office are determining the full number of workers orchardists and processors will need and are compiling lists of workers to meet the expected demand.

Handley said many persons laid off by industry are seeking apple picking jobs.

An employe of the Shelby Mutual Casualty company here, Marilyn began her instruction Aug. 14, 1948, under the supervision of Bill Fisher, co-owner of the Shelby Sky Haven, and had completed 41 hours of flying time at the time of her test.

Included in the 41 hours were 11 hours of dual flight and 30 hours of solo work.

A graduate of the Class of 1948 at Shelby high school, Marilyn has had the desire to become a pilot since the establishment of the airport at Sky Haven.

Marilyn is five feet three and three-quarters inches in height, has brown hair, blue eyes and weighs 125 pounds.

PERFECTION OF ALL ROLLING STOCK IS THE GOAL OF ANDY NEIDERT'S JOB AND HE'S BEEN AT IT FOR MORE THAN 22 YEARS.

Neidert Is Our Highway Safety Engineer

from the HEART of the hops

One out of six highway accidents is due to faulty equipment, so that's a special reason why Andrew Neidert is careful to see that all his trucks are in top condition.

Andy has always been a careful man. He loves engines. His ear is so well trained that it generally leads him direct to any trouble spot.

His trucks—he babies them as if each were his own personal car—are the Burkhardt trucks you see on the city streets and highways. He likes to see them shining clean. He's been taking care of this work for us more than 22 years, even back in the days when we were making soft drinks. So he knows trucks inside and out.

Andy was born near Budapest in Austria-Hungary. In 1911 he came to the United States to join his brother and sister in Akron. He's there he's mighty glad he came.

When he's off the job, he can't help noticing any automobile engine that's a little bit sick. It bothers him. When he wants relaxation in the fall, he goes out to the western part of Ohio with his dog and bags some pheasant and rabbit. He used to do quite a lot of fishing but he gave it up when he got more bites from mosquitoes than from fish.

We're proud to have men like Neidert stay with us so long. It shows us that our plant is a good place to work. We're proud of their skill and experience, and the care with which they do their work.

Drink the beer these men drink themselves—fully-aged Burkhardt's Beer, from the heart of the hops.

Richland Milk Cows Show 17 Per Cent Decline In 4 Years

Production Per Animal Up Slightly

Knox and Holmes Show No Change

The number of milk cows in Richland county has decreased 13 to 17 per cent since 1945, according to a report released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland in its monthly business review.

Over the nation as a whole there are two per cent fewer milk cows than a year ago, but farmers are getting three per cent more milk. The increase in yield per cow and falling feed prices have reduced the cost of producing milk, but not enough to offset the decline in the selling price of milk, the report said.

Knox and Homes are the only two in which there has been no change in the number of cows while in Crawford county there has been a decreas of more than 18 per cent. Ashland county has shown a drop of eight to 12 per cent since 1945 and Morrow and Huron, three to seven per cent.

REVENUE UP

Despite the decrease all over the nation the annual cash receipts from dairy farming are still estimated at nearly $4,000,000,000, or double the pre-war level.

The figure represents a seventh of the income from farm marketings and is second only to receipts from meat animals which include large numbers of discarded dairy cattle.

The report shows that dairy products are the leading source of income in over half the Ohio counties. Richland county's largest farm income, however, is from grains.

The changes in milk output, the business review explains, reflect the decisions of thousands of farmers on the basis of their individual profit and loss experiences.

Most have learned that the higher the production per cow, the lower is the cost per 100 pounds of milk produced. Recent investigations in Ohio and Pennsylvania indicated that the one third of the commercial milk producers who have yields per cow of less than 6,000 pounds per year are generally the highest-cost third. There are probably few in this group who would not be found to be operating "in the red" if all costs were counted, the report said.

'The low cost third, on the other hand, generally average over 7,000 pounds per cow, and those who are most secure in profits from dairying, approach or pass the 8,000-pound mark. There are of course, several factors which enter into the determination of profits, especially efficiency in the use of labor and capital, but milk production per cow is one of the most important,' the report added.

FAIR GAME—Quentin, 14, and Lloyd, 11, Matthes, Mansfield, R. D. 6, get their registered Holsteins ready for the junior fair. The Matthes brothers are old hands at the fair exhibiting. Quentin has entered exhibits for the past five years and Lloyd four. They are planning to show a Yorkshire gilt along with the Holsteins this year. The cows are a year and a half old.

Will Fight Wage Boost

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Vice President W. O. Lippman of Westinghouse Electric corporation made it clear to employes yesterday the company will continue to hold the line against a fourth round pay increase.

In a letter to the firm's 100,000 employes, he denied rumors that the company and the CIO-United Electric Workers were marking time to determine what pattern a presidential fact-finding board might set in the steel industry.

"Whatever may be done in other industries," said Lippman. "such as steel and auto will not change (the company's) problems and the circumstances. Therfore management must continue to hold to its conclusion that a fourth round increase should not be paid."

Negotiations between the company and the UE are now in recess. The union wants a $500 "package" increase for its members.

BA-BA BLACK SHEEP—Here's a black sheep with plenty of curly wool. He belongs to Jackson Shafer, 12, Mansfield, R. D. 6, who plans to enter him in the Richland County Junior Fair Aug. 18, 19, 20.

Fellowship Growth Cited

"The Christian movement has created a world-wide fellowship, transcending all nationality and political barriers," Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church, told the more than 300 Mansfielders who attended the sixth union vesper service at South park.

Rev. Stoneburner used as his theme, "One People of God," stressing the all-embracing movement and spirit among the various denominations and branches of the Christian church throughout the world.

Developing his theme, he spoke of the international Christian fellowship during the last war and stressed the importance of the World Council of Churches formed at the Amsterdam conference last year.

Rev. Stoneburner quoted several leading religious figures when speaking of the World Council of Churches as "a great new fact of the era" and "one of the most significant things in recent history."

The choir of the First Methodist church, directed by Mrs. Edwin Cooper, sang "A Song in the Night," by Woodman, with Dr. Ralph Wadsworth and Miss Betty Gorsuch as soloists. Kenneth Erb sang a solo, DeRose's "I Heard a Forest Praying."

Mrs. Willis Naas, at the electric organ, played Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Star of Evening," by Smith, and "Postlude March," by Best.

But he said he was dismissed from the nazi party when he refused to take part in the blood purges.

In 1939, he came to America on a refugee scholarship. On May 20, Judge van Roden granted citizenship to Sonthoff, and he is now a student at Harvard.

Chiefs End 10-Day Tour

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The joint chiefs of staff returned to Washington yesterday after their 10-day on-the-spot survey of the military needs of western Europe.

The European survey of Gen. Omar N. Bradley of the army, Adm. Louis E. Denfeld of the navy and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg of the air force was designed to expedite the formation of a joint military program for free nations under the Atlantic pact.

Bradley told newsmen that they discussed the organization with the leading military leaders of western Europe. He reported a "frank exchange of views," but said no decisions were reached.

He said that the military leaders of western Europe were "very pleased" that the American chiefs of staff visited them so soon after ratification of the pact by the United Sates.

Charles Favored to Retain Heavy 'Crown'

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THIS BASEBALL school business has grown into quite a thing. . . . Branch Rickey, now the top mogul of the Dodgers, started the idea way back in 1934 when he was with the St. Louis Cardinals. . . . Now every major league club except possibly the St. Louis Browns stages these camps to help shake loose an occasional ball player of pro caliber. . . . The only camp to hit this area will be the one the Cards stage at Liberty park tomorrow and Friday. . . . The schools seem to have a two-fold purpose. . . . They do provide a few ball players and get a lot of other young fellows thinking baseball. . . . The Cards uncovered such players as Enos Slaughter, Marty Marion, Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Whitey Kurowski and Chuck Diering from schools such as this. . . . But the players who actually sign pro contracts from these schools are relatively few in number.

★

BOB HOGARTY, advance man for the Cardinal school in the mid-west, dropped in yesterday with the odds and adenda of the camps. . . . Bob has been connected with 25 schools in the mid-west this summer and in these schools Cardinal scouts have looked over 3,500 ball players. . . . Only 18 of the group have been signed while at least 30 more will get a further look-see and may end up on a St. Louis farm club. . . . The Cardinals have three teams staging schools throughout the country. . . . The teams will have about 100 groups together for the two and three day sessions.

★

ODDLY ENOUGH, the scouts have found that most of the talented players have come from the southern part of the country. . . . It seems the southern youngsters just take to baseball more adeptly than their northern counterparts. . . . Hogarty has been on the road since April and will be working with Cardinal schools for another five or six weeks. . . . Kurowski was working with the Bob Kline-Jack Sturdy team until he went with Houston recently. . . . Whitey has a bad arm and Card officials hope the Texas climate will bring the limb around.

Pro Wrestling Show Is Off

Mansfield will be without pro wrestling for the next three weeks, Promoter Clete Kauffman announced today.

The show scheduled for Friday night was cancelled when Kauffman was unable to complete a card. Previously unavailability of the armory on Ashland road had forced Kauffman to call off three regularly scheduled Saturday shows.

"I was unable to book the proper talent for Friday night," Kauffman said: "So, I felt the only thing to do was call off the program."

Wrestling in Mansfield will resume Sept. 3.

Lesnevich To Try For Early Kayo

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ezzard Charles rules a solid 5-to-18 favorite to punch 34-year-old Gus Lesnevich full of holes tonight at Yankee stadium in the first defense of his newly-won NBA heavyweight boxing championship. The 15-round bout is scheduled for 9 p. m. (EST).

Only 49 days after he cautiously outboxed Jersey Joe Walcott to win the crown, the 28-year-old Cincinnati Negro rushes to the post in an effort to convince New York skeptics of his right to be called "champ."

No matter how soon he may knock out Gus, if at all, Charles will not be champ in New York state. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the state athletic commission, has ruled the winner must meet Lee Savold or "some suitable opponent" before he gives his official blessing. Ezzard is king in the other 47 states.

It figures to be a good fight, while it lasts, perhaps even sensational, for Lesnevich is prepared to shoot the works early. The vet from Cliffside Park, N. J., can punch with either hand. He says he will go to Charles' body but may surprise by head-hunting with his stiff left hook.

As for Charles, he can bide his time. He may choose to rush out for a quick kill. Chances are he'll let Gus come in and sharpshoot in hopes of reopening the old cuts and scar tissue around the challenger's eyes. If Ezzy takes his time, it could go the route.

The fight has failed to excite the general public. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club which is promoting its first of four scheduled New York outdoor shows, hopes for $150,000 and over and 20,000 fans. He'll probably settle for $100,000.

MAY BE RAIN

The weatherman says there is a threat of thundershowers late tonight but he thinks they will come after the fight. "Warm and humid" is forecast.

Charles is bitter at the New York commission for failing to recognize him as champ.

Ezzard has had trouble keeping his weight up during the hot weather. He is expected to weigh in at the Garden today at about 178 pounds. Lesnevich, now resting at his New Jersey home, probably will hit 182.

Long Games Will Feature Cardinal Baseball School

Two long games will feature the baseball school which the St. Louis Cardinals will stage at Liberty Park tomorrow and Friday.

The games will last between four and five hours with every youngster attending the school getting a chance to see action. Sessions will open at 11 a. m. each day with a 30 minute outfield throwing drill. Then all the infielders in camp will see action in an hour of infield work.

After that ball games will begin and continue until approximately 5 p. m. or until every player has been watched in action by Scouts Bob Kline and Jack Sturdy. Kline formerly pitched for the Boston Red Sox while Sturdy played second for the Columbus Red Birds.

Players from 17 to 23 years of age have been invited to attend the Cardinals' "ivory hunt." Each player must furnish his own gloves, spikes and uniform. The Red Birds supply bats, balls and catching equipment.

Any successful candidates will, of course, be offered a contract with the Cardinal organization. If signed, all expenses of the player in attending the camp will be refunded.

Bob Hogarty, Cardinal advance man, yesterday extended an invitation for all Mansfield Hot Stove league players to attend the school but emphasized that the youngsters would only be spectators. However, they will be permitted to sit in on all lectures and absorb all the baseball lore which Kline and Sturdy pass on to the older players.

Nearly 400 Hot Stovers attended a recent Cardinal school in Pennsylvania.

Lloyd Takes First Money From Snead

CHICAGO — (AP) — Fresh from the battle of three-foot putts in the all - American professional meet, triumphant Lloyd Mangrum and vanquished Sammy Snead tomorrow will square off for really big money in the $35,200 "world" championship of golf.

Mangrum yesterday continued his amazing wizardry on his home Tam O'Shanter course with a 13-sub-par, 276-stroke All-American triumph.

Mangrum cooly dropped in a three - footer on the 72nd green after Snead some 90 minutes earlier had fizzled a tap from the same distance on the final hole. That $1,000 miss cost Snead a chance to force Mangrum into a playoff for the top $3,333 swag.

Sambo, who started the final round five strokes behind Mangrum, uncorked a brilliant closing 68, but it was only good for 277 and runner-up dough of $2,333.

Snead, whose season's winnings now are $25,693, and Mangrum, third with $20,548, top a 64-player field which will set sail tomorrow in promoter George S. May's lush "world" showdown over 72 holes.

Warming up properly for the concurrent amateur and feminine "world" competition were Frank Stranahan, who retained his All-American amateur crown and pro Louise Suggs, the All-American Women's Open winner.

Stranahan came from behind with a closing 69 for a 286 total to win the amateur by two strokes from Julius Boros, West Hartford, Conn., accountant.

Miss Suggs walked off with the $1,200 women's pro top money by posting a one-under-par 303. Second and winning $650 was dethroned champion Babe Zaharias at 397.

Ashland Plans Sports Lights

ASHLAND — Lighting of Myers field for future sports events is the newest project of the Ashland Boosters club, according to Roe E. Wolfe, president of the club.

The field, given to the YMCA for public use by the late P. A. Myers, and used extensively by the high school for baseball and track events, will accommodate night football and other night sports once lighting is installed.

The Boosters expect to have the lights ready for use for baseball and softball next spring.

Lighting engineers have already been called in to plan the lighting installation. Present plans call for a combination lighting plant to accommodate night baseball and other sports. The installation would cost $15,000 to $20,000.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

A little doe we call Dee Dee has got' so she'll eat right out of our hand.
Can you beat it? Time and again this little she deer, that lives somewheres over in the wooded piece down Boggs' Creek way, comes stealing all bashful-like right into our yard. I always kid and say she comes to spoon with that old iron stag of ours. But as you can easy see, it's no iron stag she's wanting. It's Grannie Wilken's cookies!
Harry E. Wilken
Something extra tasty sure wins friends!
Take Our Family's Whiskey for instance.
All I got to say is the way Our Family's Recipe has took hold is really something. Right and left and everywheres us Wilkens are hearing folks declare it's got more tastiness per bottle than anything they've ever yet tried.
Well, when all is said and done, I guess it couldn't hardly help being something pretty extra special, seeing our Family has been distilling for 60 whole years and then some! And mind you—The Wilken Family Whiskey is the personal recipe of our family—the identical same whiskey as us old time distillers enjoy amongst ourselves.
There's some folks that figure the dearer a whiskey comes, the tastier it's bound to be. But there's plenty finding out different. And I don't mind coming right out and saying when you once sample a drink of Our Family's Recipe, you're going to say irregardless of price, you never tasted nor swallowed anything more flavory and easy-swallowing than The Wilken Family Whiskey in your life. Just you promise yourself to stop by for a bottle before this very day is out!

Mansfielders Oust Ashland Indians From Meet

Vogel's 1-0 Winner In 11-Inning Game

By CHARLEY STINE

Quarter-final play in the district softball tournament will open tonight at Gorman-Rupp field but anything that happens from here on will be an anti-climax.

The ultimate in both play and drama was reached last night as Mansfield Westinghouse upset the vaunted Ashland Indians, 1-0, in an 11-inning thriller.

Mansfield Gorman-Rupp, now re-established as favorite, will meet dark-horse Jeromesville at 8 p. m. tonight while Mansfield Todd's Jewelry battles the Mansfield Veterans of Foreign Wars at 9:30.

Ollie Barker, the much discussed Ashland twirler, pitched a perfect game for six innings and a no-hitter for seven yesterday but was matched pitch for pitch, Fritz Vogel, iron-hearted Westinghouse veteran, allowed Ashland only five singles and did not walk a single batter.

The 37-year-old Vogel became the absolute hero when his grounder was responsible for the winning run in the last of the 11th. With one man out, singles by Bob McFadden and Bill Friend put men on second and third. Vogel, up next, attempted a bunt but had it roll foul. He then missed a swinging strike, before slapping a slow grounder to third base. Vince Barr threw home, but McFadden slid hard to the plate and Catcher Ralph Farris dropped the ball.

Ashland had been rated the tournament favorite while Westinghouse was considered more or less "lucky" in getting by its first game.

INSPIRED TEAM

The Westinghouse nine was an inspired crew last night, however, as they gave Vogel fine support in the field. Howie Waldman was particularly brilliant as he threw out seven men, several on hard stops. Vogel struck out only two men.

Ashland never had a man reach third base as the only two who attempted to go that far were thrown out.

Barker had his flutterball working to perfection in the early innings and struck out 15 Westinghouse batters. He retired 18 men in order until Bob McFadden led off the seventh inning with a walk. The first hit was a single to left by Dick Eckels in the eighth inning.

In last night's other games, Marion Smitty's Grill defeated Mt. Gilead Sid's Cleaners, 4-3, and Mansfield Farm Tools blasted Mansfield Ideal Electric, 6-0.

Six of the eight teams in quarter-finals play are Mansfield nines and it is possible for Mansfield to gain all of the semi-final spots. Smitty's will meet Sons of Herman tomorrow night while Farm Tools must face Westinghouse.

Jack Walters allowed only three hits in pitching Farm Tools to victory while his mates collected nine off Glenn Zartman. Jim LeMunyon, Jake Lyons and Walters each got two blows apiece.

First Round Play Ends In Two Tourneys

First round play in both the Church and Girls league softball tournaments were completed last night with two games in each loop.

In the Church circuit, Park Avenue Baptist defeated Four Square Gospel, 5-2, while First Congregational rapped First Methodist, 10-6.

Semi - finals will be played Thursday with First Presbyterian facing Baptist and St. Matthew's meeting Congregational.

One Girls' game ended in a forfeit as Spudnuts failed to field a team against Yunckers. Lumbermens won the other by a 9-8 score over Ohio Sport Center. The game went eight innings with Lumbermens pushing over the winning run in the last of the eighth.

Only other tilt played last night was a National league game in which 164th Fighter Squadron outlasted D and M. Cigar, 11-10. The game was called by darkness at the end of the sixth inning.

Ohio College Grid Teams Play 123 Road Contests

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio's collegiate gridders are getting to be old gadabouts!

The Buckeye realm's 38 varsity squads have 229 games on tap for this fall's football frolic, and 123 will be against out-of-state opponents.

Of the interstate affairs, 66 will be played on Ohio gridirons against invaders from 21 other commonwealths. The local lads will visit 15 other states and Washington, D. C. for the remaining 57 tilts on the intersectional card.

The overall picture shows the Buckeye boys battling teams from 28 of the other 47 states, as well as the nation's capital.

The Ohio conference, its membership having dwindled to 14 from the peak of 24 in 1935, has 35 championship games scheduled; the state's four mid-American entrants have a dozen title tilts, and the new mid-Ohio league has eight. Ohio State plays six in the western conference.

Night football is moving into the picture rapidly, with 61 of the 172 games on Ohio soil slated under the lights.

Other states sending invading teams to Ohio this fall are:

Indiana 12, Pennsylvania 10, Michigan 10, West Virginia 7, New York 4, Kentucky 3, Connecticut 2, Missouri 2, Illinois 2, Nevada 2, Minnesota 2, and North Dakota, Rhode Island, Oklahoma, New Jersey, Iowa, Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Massachusetts, one each.

Ohio will send 12 teams to Pennsylvania, and to Michigan 10, West Virginia 9, Kentucky 7, New York 4, Indiana 3, Virginia 2, California 2, and one each to Florida, New Hampshire, Texas, Kansas, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Illinois and Washington, D. C.

PRINCES WERE TOPS

As a memory refresher: Heidelberg's Student Princes led the state last year with nine straight wins, while Denison, Bowling Green and State College at Wilberforce were undefeated; Miami was the undisputed champion of the Mid-American conference with four victories and no defeats; and Heidelberg, Denison, Kent State, Ohio Wesleyan and Wilmington were unbeaten and untied in Ohio conference play.

This year Wilmington, Ohio Northern and Findlay are out of the Ohio conference race, having resigned from the unwieldy loop.

Pancho Gonzales Disappoints With Poor Tennis Play

NEWPORT, R. I. — (AP) — Richard (Pancho) Gonzales is the talk of the Casino's 30th invitational grass court tennis tournament.

The national singles champion from Los Angeles, who is top seeded in this annual affair, has played extremely disappointing tennis so far.

He had to go 34 games Monday before he could defeat Dick Mouledous, third ranking junior nationally.

Yesterday he again went all out before turning back another New Orleans competitor, Tom Malloy 7-5, 6-4.

He also erred frequently as he and Parker, seeded number one in the doubles, won their first round test in that competition. They defeated Tom Bonner of Jackson, Miss., and James [illegible] of Washington, D. C., 6-3, 6-1.

Third round singles matches saw Eric Sturgess of South Africa best Richard Savitt of East Orange, N. J., 9-7, 6-2, and Irvin Dorfman beat Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, 6-2, 2-6, 9-7.

Madison 9 Wins Over Ashlanders

Madison closed its Central Ohio junior league schedule with a 6-1 victory over Ashland last night, only to discover later that it had not yet won the league championship.

Through an error in the standings, Madison was thought to have the pennant clinched. At a league meeting, however, it was discovered that Madison has a 14-6 record while Lucas and Mansfield AC each have 13-6. A postponed game must be played off between the latter two teams, making a playoff game necessary.

TWO-DAY MEET

A tournament of league teams will be held Saturday and Sunday at Blue Goose park. Only five teams will take part since Bellville has dropped from the league.

Lexington will play Madison at 1:30 p. m. Saturday with Lucas and Mansfield AC batting in the second game at 3:30. Sunday Ashland will meet the Lucas-AC winner at 1:30, with the winner meeting the Lexington-Madison winner in the 3:30 p. m. finals.
